5 Protests Fired Off To Duvalier

U.S. Relations With Haiti Seen Crumbling Rapidly

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Relations with Haiti are deteriorating rapidly.

In the past five days, the U.S. Embassy has fired off five protests to President Francois Duvalier's government, complaining about different incidents. All have been ignored.

The incidents were:

1. A bitterly anti-American address April 21 by Jacques Fourcand, pistol-carrying head of Haiti's Red Cross, at a ceremony launching a government-sponsored "month of gratefulness" to Duvalier. Fourcand called the United States a false democracy and said Haiti would not be a "tool of Washington."

2. The wife of a U.S. Marine sergeant was held in jail for two and a half hours and a noise bomb exploded in the yard of another Marine sergeant.

3. Police arrested a Haitian secretary employed by the U.S. Embasssy and are still holding her. A second Haitian secretary was marched off at gunpoint by a Haitian soldier as she was about to report for work. She was detained briefly.

4. A slowdown on exit permits for U.S. citizens living in Haiti. The issuance of visas was speeded up later. About 1,000 Americans reside here, but there has been no sign of an exodus.

5. The first secretary of the U.S. Embassy was stopped at a roadblock at 2 a.m. when driving to work and made to stand in front of the headlights with his hands up before he was released.

Duvalier's regime demanded last week that the United States withdraw the 60-member Marine Corps mission which has been training the Haitian army. Less than half the Marines are preparing to leave in the near future. The rest are being incorporated in the military assistance advisory group which supervises the use made of American military equipment furnished Haiti.

On the American side, officials in Washington make no secret of the Kennedy administration's distaste for Duvalier's dictatorship. The United States cut off aid to Haiti for six months in 1961-62. Thursday the State Department warned U.S. citizens to "avoid unnecessary travel to Haiti" because of the tense and potentially explosive situation in the country.

U.S. Ambassador Raymond Thurston has not talked to Duvalier in more than five months. He has had to take up diplomatic problems with Rene Chalmers, Haitian foreign minister.

Thurston plans to leave for consultation in Washington shortly before May 15, the date the United States considers the legal termination of Duvalier's six-year term in office. However, in 1961, Duvalier proclaimed himself elected for a new six-year term which he inaugurated May 22 of that year. He did this by placing his name unopposed on all the ballots in elections for the legislature.

Robert Newbegin, then U.S. ambassador, did not attend the 1961 inaugural, managing to be in Washington at the time. The same thing happened at last year's celebration of the first anniversary of Duvalier's new term.

700 Jailed In Alabama Racial Strife

Termed As Thrust Of Giant Renewal Of Demonstrations

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Birmingham jails were filled today with hundreds of Negroes arrested in what integration leaders described as the initial thrust of a massive renewal of protest demonstrations.

The number arrested in Thursday's waves of marches and picketing was estimated at 700 by City Jailer Chester Austin. He said more than 300 were booked at City Jail.

A matron estimated 300-400 were lodged at the Juvenile Detention Home and the County Jail reported about 100 prisoners were taken there.

Police said a few rocks were thrown at officers during the demonstration but that none was hit. There were no reports of any other violence.

"We are definitely starting a stepped-up campaign to lay our grievances before the conscience of the community," said Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., symbolic leader of the Southern integration fight.

"We will have continued demonstrations," King said.

The obviously well-planned waves of marches and picketing, mostly by children who skipped school classes, erupted without warning. Ten groups converged on city Hall from all directions.

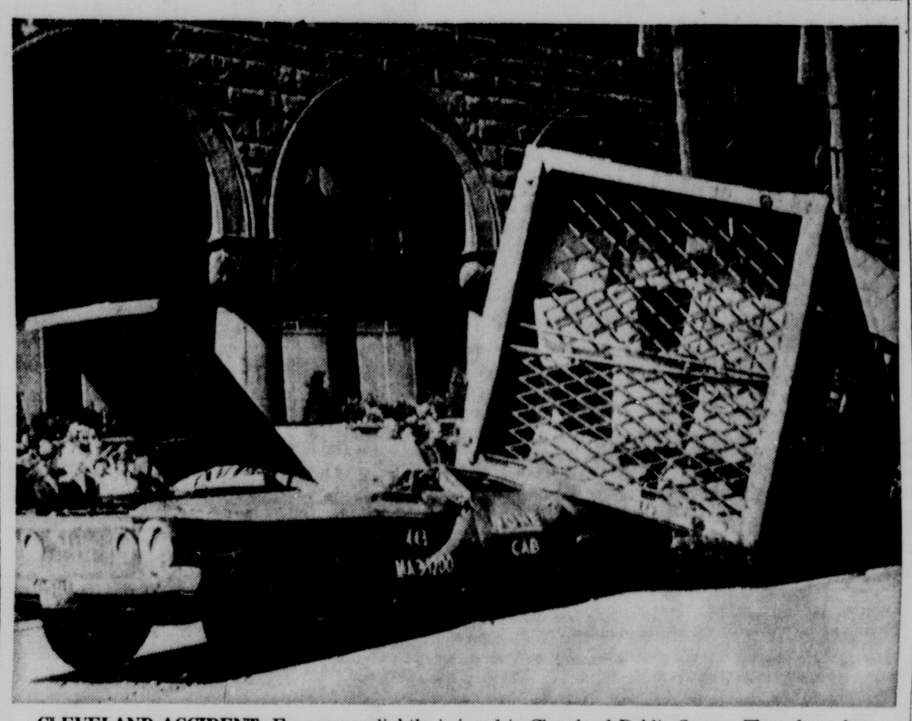
Walkie-talkies were used to coordinate the simultaneous demonstrations, said the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, strategist for the movement.

Teachers shouted encouragement as pupils, some only first-graders, marched in an eight-block radius of City Hall. One group of about 20 pupils got by police lines and knelt near the City Hall steps to pray.

School buses were used to haul the Negroes to jail after the first three waves were arrested.

Although firemen laid out high pressure hoses in the area, they did not use them in dispersing several thousand white and Negro spectators. Warned by police the hoses would be turned on if they didn't leave, the on-lookers quickly scattered.

Charges of parading without a permit were filed against most of the Negroes. Some adults were charged with failing to obey officers.



CLEVELAND ACCIDENT. Four were slightly injured in Cleveland Public Square Thursday when a loaded delivery van sideswiped a Yellow Cab and a passenger car, then tipped over on a Zone Cab. Driver of the truck said his brakes failed and he swerved into a west-bound only lane. (UPI Telephoto)

Solicitor's Next Step To Wait Study

7th District Court Backs Labor Group In Attempted Vote

In an apparent victory for foes of the city income tax, the 7th District Court of Appeals has affirmed a ruling of the Common Pleas Court at Lisbon that ordered the question certified to the County Election Board for a vote of the people.

Notice of the appellate court's decision was received Thursday at Lisbon and a copy was forwarded to Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, who fought the city's case. However, Cooper said all the implications of the district court's decision will not be known until he receives a copy of the opinion issued in connection with the ruling.

Lower Court Upheld

The word received at the Lisbon court and by the solicitor said simply that the district court affirmed a decision handed down in Common Pleas Court last Aug. 29 by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

However, if the city pursues the case further, its next step apparently would be an appeal to the State Supreme Court. But Cooper explained he is unable to comment on the city's future plans until he reads the court's opinion, which he expects to receive today.

The case was an outgrowth of the Trades and Labor Council's move to force a vote on the city income tax issue.

The City of East Liverpool appealed to the district court from the Common Pleas ruling that upheld Trades Council's contention that it was entitled to a ballot place for the issue, based upon petitions which it circulated requesting a vote on an initiative ordinance repealing the tax law.

Denied Ballot Place

The question arose last fall when City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate, acting upon an opinion issued by the solicitor, ruled that petitions filed by Trades

Cautions Nation

FBI Chief Warns Of Crime Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, about to enter his 40th year as FBI director, cautioned the nation today that it faces "a tragic breakdown of law and order" unless crime is curbed.

The head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said serious crime has increased by 114 per cent since 1950. One major cause, he said, is public apathy toward law enforcement—too many people adopt a "don't get involved" attitude.

"Law enforcement," he said, "must depend on citizens who will report criminal acts and later testify about them."

Back in 1917, when he was a fledgling lawyer, Hoover entered the Department of Justice as a clerk. His rise was rapid and 39 years ago next Friday, he became head of the FBI. He is now 68.

Here, in the form of written answers to written questions, are some of the views of the man whose anticrime career has made his name a household word:

Q. What has been the greatest thrill of your career to date?

A. It was that moment on May 10, 1924, when Attorney General Harlan Fiske Stone called me to his office and asked that I take over the bureau's reins.

In the preceding months, the FBI had been rocked by scandal. It had become a dumping ground for political favoritism. Morale was low. Investigative operations were inefficient. The bureau was in need of a thorough reorganization and house cleaning.

As I sat in the attorney general's office that day, I realized that here was a genuine opportunity for service to the American people.

Q. What are the basic differences between the FBI today and as it existed in 1924?

A. Most noticeable, perhaps, is the fact that our jurisdiction has increased manifold. For example, during the gangster era of the 1930s, a series of crime bills—including such important laws as the Federal Bank Robbery Act, the Lindbergh kidnap statute and the Fugitive Felon Act — were passed by Congress and placed within the bureau's jurisdiction. In September 1939, as war clouds thundered over Europe, President Roosevelt issued a directive making the FBI the civilian agency primarily responsible for safeguarding the nation's internal security. Investigations of espionage, sabotage and subversive activities have been one of the ma-

Steubenville Driver And 3 Others Hurt In Route 30 Mishap

A Steubenville woman was hospitalized and three others were injured in mishap on Route 30 near Lisbon in which two vehicles overturned Thursday night at 11.

Mary Louise Headland, 42, of Steubenville was transferred from Salem City Hospital to Steubenville with a fractured pelvis and other injuries.

She was pinned between the seat and door of her overturned hardtop for a short time following the accident after another vehicle, driven by a Fort Wayne (Ind.) woman overturned two or three times when attempting to pass the Steubenville woman.

Mrs. Patricia Ryan, 21, of Fayetteville, N. C., a passenger in the Headland car, was treated at the Salem hospital for bruises of the leg and face.

Judith A. Greco, 24, of Fort Wayne, driver of the 1963 station wagon, escaped injury. Her husband, Joseph William Greco, 24, received cuts of the hands and legs and facial bruises, and their

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Douglas of the Supreme Court granted stays of execution to three men scheduled to die today in California's gas chamber at San Quentin Prison.

Stays were granted to Joseph Rosoto, John Frank Vlahovich, and Donald G. Franklin.

A fourth man, Charles J. Golston, also scheduled for execution today, had been saved Thursday night by a commutation from Gov. Edmund G. Brown. The governor changed Golston's sentence from death to life imprisonment without possibility of parole.

2nd Team On Way Up

Everest Scaled By 2 Americans

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—With the Stars and Stripes already planted on the roof of the world, word was eagerly awaited today whether an American expedition had succeeded in conquering Mt. Everest for a second time.

Two members of the American Everest expedition reached the 29,028-foot summit of the world's highest mountain at 1 p.m. (2:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time) Wednesday, an expedition spokesman announced Thursday night. Presumably the two climbers returned to the assault camp, 1,228 feet below the summit before nightfall Wednesday.

The expedition's base camp radioed Katmandu today that all personnel were well but added no details.

The expedition's plans called for a second team, which had been climbing a day behind the first group, to press on to the summit. This would match a Swiss feat in 1956, when two teams reached the peak on successive days.

Later, a third American team was to try for the top. But in Katmandu today there was no word beyond the bare announcement that the first team had reached the peak and planted the U.S. flag.

The expedition's policy is to keep the identities of the various teams secret until all three groups have returned to safety. It was not even known whether both of the first conquerors were Americans or whether one was a Sherpa, from the native tribe of mountaineers that furnished the guides and porters for the expedition.

New Zealander Edmund Hillary —now Sir Edmund—and a Sherpa, Tensing Norgay, first climbed to the ice-crusted "pleasantly rounded cone," as Hillary described it, on May 28, 1953.

In addition to the British conquest and the two successful Swiss climbs in 1956, the Chinese Communists claimed that they reached the summit in 1960 and left a statue of Mao Tze-tung. The claim has not been accepted in international mountaineering circles, and word was awaited whether the American climbers had found any trace of the Chinese.

The first American team followed the route pioneered by Hillary and Tensing, up the southeast side, with drops of 8,000 to 10,000 feet on both sides. The second team planned to follow the same route. The third hoped to forge a new trail up the rocky west ridge, the border between Nepal and Communist-ruled Tibet.

In Britain, Sir John Hunt, leader of the successful 1953 British assault, said he had information from the American expedition indicating the first team was made up of Luther G. Jerstad of Eugene, Ore., Richard Pownell of Denver, Colo., and two Sherpas. But he said he did not know which two reached the top.

"All Americans will join me in saluting our gallant countrymen," President Kennedy said. Cheers echoed in newspapers of Britain

Miss Smith's 2nd Trial Set For Mid-June

Former City Water Clerk Faces Charge In Fund Shortages

Second trial for Miss Roberta C. Smith, former city water department clerk indicted for larceny in connection with an alleged $23,841 shortage in the department two years ago, has been set for the week of June 17.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Thursday at Lisbon overruled a motion for a demurrer to the indictment filed by Miss Smith's attorney, Frank Springer of East Palestine, and set the tentative date for the trial.

Atty. Springer filed the motion, claiming the facts set forth in the indictment do not constitute an offense punishable under the laws of the state.

He declared Miss Smith was not in charge of the collection and safekeeping of the funds found missing.

Judge Buzzard ruled, "I cannot demur the indictment unless it fails to state an offense. This states larceny, but it will have to be proven."

Miss Smith was originally indicted for embezzlement of the department funds but a Common Pleas Court jury failed to reach a verdict in a trial which ended Dec. 7.

Judge Buzzard granted a request by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw to consolidate the embezzlement indictment and larceny indictment.

Early Ballots Given To 182

Requests Increase From '61 Election

When the deadline arrived Thursday at 5 p. m., the County Election Board had issued a total of 182 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots for the primary elections Tuesday, noting an increase from the number obtained for the last comparable election in 1961.

The voters had until 1 p. m. today to return the ballots to the board's office on W. 6th St. The ballots must be back in the board's hands by the deadline if they're to be counted at the polls Tuesday. "Quite a few" had not been returned by this morning, the staff said.

In advance of the 1961 municipal primaries, the board issued a total of 118 of the "early ballots" to civilians and service personnel.

The board also has issued 42 ballots under the so-called "soldier voting law." The tickets are available for service personnel and their spouses and civilians residing temporarily outside the U.S. The "soldier ballots" may be issued until noon Saturday and may be returned as late as noon on Election Day.

The civilian absentee ballots are for persons who will be outside Columbiana County and at least 10 miles from their home precinct on Election Day. The disabled voters' ballots are for persons unable to get to the polls because of illness or infirmity.

Convention Proposals

Resolution Asks Pension For Pottery Union Heads

Eight more resolutions have been filed for action at the 69th annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in July at Las Vegas, including a proposal to establish a pension plan for the union's Executive Board and international representatives.

The proposal for the pensions, filed by Local 181 in Trenton, N. J., was among new resolutions published today in the union's official newspaper, The Potters Herald.

The resolution asserts that the Executive Board and the international representatives have been responsible for negotiating pensions for workers in dealings with manufacturers, but no pension plan ever has been created for the top officers. The Executive Board is comprised of the 12 international officers.

The list includes two more resolutions proposing that the IBOP's conventions be held biennially, instead of annually, as at present. One includes a proviso that the Executive Board could call a special convention if it deemed the meeting necessary.

Another resolution asserts that the union's membership has dropped to about 16,000 from its high of 28,000-30,000 and adds that "we have five more salaried representatives" than when the rolls were larger. It asks that the president, secretary - treasurer and first and second vice presidents be the only officers retained on a salaried system.

A second resolution, citing the fact that some local unions have been consolidated recently, says the action "has lessened work" for the officers. It proposes to reduce to two the number of IBOP officers serving in the East Liverpool area.

In a notation accompanying the proposed resolutions, the IBOP said none has been cleared by legal counsel or the Executive Board as to constitutionality.

U.S. Embassy Hit With Tomatoes, Eggs

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Ultraleftist youths bombarded the U.S. and Venezuelan ambassadors with tomatoes and eggs Thursday night as the envoys left a museum.

Freeman and Ochoa Briceno, badly splattered, ducked into waiting cars.

It was the first such attack on Freeman, who has been well-liked during his two-year stay.

5 Protests Fired Off To Duvalier

U.S. Relations With Haiti Seen Crumbling Rapidly

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Relations with Haiti are deteriorating rapidly.

In the past five days, the U.S. Embassy has fired off five protests to President Francois Duvalier's government, complaining about different incidents. All have been ignored.

The incidents were:

1. A bitterly anti-American address April 21 by Jacques Fourcand, pistol-carrying head of Haiti's Red Cross, at a ceremony launching a government-sponsored "month of gratefulness" to Duvalier. Fourcand called the United States a false democracy and said Haiti would not be a "tool of Washington."

2. The wife of a U.S. Marine sergeant was held in jail for two and a half hours and a noise bomb exploded in the yard of another Marine sergeant.

3. Police arrested a Haitian secretary employed by the U.S. Embasssy and are still holding her. A second Haitian secretary was marched off at gunpoint by a Haitian soldier as she was about to report for work. She was detained briefly.

4. A slowdown on exit permits for U.S. citizens living in Haiti. The issuance of visas was speeded up later. About 1,000 Americans reside here, but there has been no sign of an exodus.

Less than half the Marines are preparing to leave in the near future. On the American side, officials in Washington make no secret of the Kennedy administration's distaste for Duvalier's dictatorship. The United States cut off aid to Haiti for six months in 1961-62. Thursday the State Department warned U.S. citizens to "avoid unnecessary travel to Haiti" because of the tense and potentially explosive situation in the country.

U.S. Ambassador Raymond Thurston has not talked to Duvalier in more than five months. He has had to take up diplomatic problems with Rene Chalmers, Haitian foreign minister.

Thurston plans to leave for consultation in Washington shortly before May 15, the date the United States considers the legal termination of Duvalier's six-year term in office. However, in 1961, Duvalier proclaimed himself elected for a new six-year term which he inaugurated May 22 of that year. He did this by placing his name unopposed on all the ballots in elections for the legislature.

Robert Newbegin, then U.S. ambassador, did not attend the 1961 inaugural, managing to be in Washington at the time. The same thing happened at last year's celebration of the first anniversary of Duvalier's new term.

Solicitor's Next Step To Wait Study

7th District Court Backs Labor Group In Attempted Vote

In an apparent victory for foes of the city income tax, the 7th District Court of Appeals has affirmed a ruling of the Common Pleas Court at Lisbon that ordered the question certified to the County Election Board for a vote of the people.

Notice of the appellate court's decision was received Thursday at Lisbon and a copy was forwarded to Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, who fought the city's case. However, Cooper said all the implications of the district court's decision will not be known until he receives a copy of the opinion issued in connection with the ruling.

Lower Court Upheld

The word received at the Lisbon court and by the solicitor said simply that the district court affirmed a decision handed down in Common Pleas Court last Aug. 29 by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

However, if the city pursues the case further, its next step apparently would be an appeal to the State Supreme Court. But Cooper explained he is unable to comment on the city's future plans until he reads the court's opinion, which he expects to receive today.

The case was an outgrowth of the Trades and Labor Council's move to force a vote on the city income tax issue.

The City of East Liverpool appealed to the district court from the Common Pleas ruling that upheld Trades Council's contention that it was entitled to a ballot place for the issue, based upon petitions which it circulated requesting a vote on an initiative ordinance repealing the tax law.

The expedition's policy is to keep the identities of the various teams secret until all three groups have returned to safety. It was not even known whether both of the first conquerors were Americans or whether one was a Sherpa, from the native tribe of mountaineers that furnished the guides and porters for the expedition.

New Zealander Edmund Hillary —now Sir Edmund—and a Sherpa, Tensing Norgay, first climbed to the ice-crusted "pleasantly rounded cone," as Hillary described it, on May 28, 1953.

In addition to the British conquest and the two successful Swiss climbs in 1956, the Chinese Communists claimed that they reached the summit in 1960 and left a statue of Mao Tze-tung. The claim has not been accepted in international mountaineering circles, and word was awaited whether the American climbers had found any trace of the Chinese.

The first American team followed the route pioneered by Hillary and Tensing, up the southeast side, with drops of 8,000 to 10,000 feet on both sides. The second team planned to follow the same route. The third hoped to forge a new trail up the rocky west ridge, the border between Nepal and Communist-ruled Tibet.

In Britain, Sir John Hunt, leader of the successful 1953 British assault, said he had information from the American expedition indicating the first team was made up of Luther G. Jerstad of Eugene, Ore., Richard Pownell of Denver, Colo., and two Sherpas. But he said he did not know which two reached the top.

"All Americans will join me in saluting our gallant countrymen," President Kennedy said. Cheers echoed in newspapers of Britain

Miss Smith's 2nd Trial Set For Mid-June

Former City Water Clerk Faces Charge In Fund Shortages

Second trial for Miss Roberta C. Smith, former city water department clerk indicted for larceny in connection with an alleged $23,841 shortage in the department two years ago, has been set for the week of June 17.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Thursday at Lisbon overruled a motion for a demurrer to the indictment filed by Miss Smith's attorney, Frank Springer of East Palestine, and set the tentative date for the trial.

Atty. Springer filed the motion, claiming the facts set forth in the indictment do not constitute an offense punishable under the laws of the state.

He declared Miss Smith was not in charge of the collection and safekeeping of the funds found missing.

Judge Buzzard ruled, "I cannot demur the indictment unless it fails to state an offense. This states larceny, but it will have to be proven."

Miss Smith was originally indicted for embezzlement of the department funds but a Common Pleas Court jury failed to reach a verdict in a trial which ended Dec. 7.

Judge Buzzard granted a request by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw to consolidate the embezzlement indictment and larceny indictment.

Early Ballots Given To 182

Requests Increase From '61 Election

When the deadline arrived Thursday at 5 p. m., the County Election Board had issued a total of 182 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots for the primary elections Tuesday, noting an increase from the number obtained for the last comparable election in 1961.

The voters had until 1 p. m. today to return the ballots to the board's office on W. 6th St. The ballots must be back in the board's hands by the deadline if they're to be counted at the polls Tuesday. "Quite a few" had not been returned by this morning, the staff said.

In advance of the 1961 municipal primaries, the board issued a total of 118 of the "early ballots" to civilians and service personnel.

The board also has issued 42 ballots under the so-called "soldier voting law." The tickets are available for service personnel and their spouses and civilians residing temporarily outside the U.S. The "soldier ballots" may be issued until noon Saturday and may be returned as late as noon on Election Day.

The civilian absentee ballots are for persons who will be outside Columbiana County and at least 10 miles from their home precinct on Election Day. The disabled voters' ballots are for persons unable to get to the polls because of illness or infirmity.

Convention Proposals

Resolution Asks Pension For Pottery Union Heads

Eight more resolutions have been filed for action at the 69th annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in July at Las Vegas, including a proposal to establish a pension plan for the union's Executive Board and international representatives.

The proposal for the pensions, filed by Local 181 in Trenton, N. J., was among new resolutions published today in the union's official newspaper, The Potters Herald.

The resolution asserts that the Executive Board and the international representatives have been responsible for negotiating pensions for workers in dealings with manufacturers, but no pension plan ever has been created for the top officers. The Executive Board is comprised of the 12 international officers.

The list includes two more resolutions proposing that the IBOP's conventions be held biennially, instead of annually, as at present. One includes a proviso that the Executive Board could call a special convention if it deemed the meeting necessary.

Another resolution asserts that the union's membership has dropped to about 16,000 from its high of 28,000-30,000 and adds that "we have five more salaried representatives" than when the rolls were larger. It asks that the president, secretary - treasurer and first and second vice presidents be the only officers retained on a salaried system.

A second resolution, citing the fact that some local unions have been consolidated recently, says the action "has lessened work" for the officers. It proposes to reduce to two the number of IBOP officers serving in the East Liverpool area.

In a notation accompanying the proposed resolutions, the IBOP said none has been cleared by legal counsel or the Executive Board as to constitutionality.

U.S. Embassy Hit With Tomatoes, Eggs

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Ultraleftist youths bombarded the U.S. and Venezuelan ambassadors with tomatoes and eggs Thursday night as the envoys left a museum.

U.S. Ambassador Fulton Freeman and Santiago Ochoa Briceno of Venezuela had been attending a photography exposition sponsored by the Venezuelan Embassy. The youths shouted "Down with Yankee Imperialism."

Freeman and Ochoa Briceno, badly splattered, ducked into waiting cars.

It was the first such attack on Freeman, who has been well-liked during his two-year stay.

Second Child In Weirton Gas Blast Dies

WEIRTON — Kallay Ann Long, 2, died early today in Pittsburgh of extensive burns suffered in an explosion at her home Monday which killed a 5-year-old stepsister, and critically injured her mother and another child.

The little girl expired at 1 a. m. at Children's Hospital. She had suffered burns over 90 per cent of her body, the hospital said.

Her mother, Mrs. Margery Conley, 26, and Susan Long, 5, remain in "critical" condition at Weirton General Hospital.

The blast and fire destroyed the Floyd Conley home shortly after noon Monday, killing Peggy Ann Conley.

Authorities said the basement of the home became filled with gas after a bulldozer working on a street nearby struck a line, separating a coupling where a main line connects with a service line.

Due Tito's Welcome Saturday

Rusk Will Try To Bolster U.S.-Yugoslav Relations

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk comes to Belgrade Saturday to bolster relations between the United States and this Communist country. President Tito will welcome him and his mission.

For nearly two years U.S.-Yugoslav relations have been sagging. They are at perhaps the lowest point since 1948 when Tito broke with Stalin's Soviet Union. Recently Yugoslav leaders have been trying to do something about it. They view Rusk's acceptance of their invitation as evidence of some success.

Yugoslav moves to improve relations have included two private talks between Tito and U.S. Ambassador George F. Kennan. A message from Tito was taken to President Kennedy by Yugoslav Ambassador Veljko Micunovic after consultations here. Its contents have not been disclosed but it is understood Tito assured Kennedy that Yugoslavia intends to show independence of both Moscow and the West. It also doubtlessly reiterated the Yugoslav position that closer Yugoslav-Soviet relations should not spoil relations with the West, especially the United States.

One factor in deteriorating U.S.-Yugoslav relations has been a series of visits exchanged between Yugoslav and Soviet leaders. Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev last September used Yugoslavia as a platform for anti-American statements. Tito went to Moscow in December and repeatedly emphasized close friendship with the Soviet Union. Premier Khrushchev is scheduled to come here this summer.

Rusk's visit is the first by a U.S. secretary of state since John Foster Dulles came here in 1955.

Officers said both vehicles were headed south, about two miles south of Lisbon, when Mrs. Greco attempted to overtake and pass the Steubenville woman's car.

Mrs. Greco lost control on the downhill section of Route 30 south of the large hill near the patrol post.

Her station wagon then forced the Headland woman's 1953 two-door hardtop off the right side of the road, and it overturned through the guardrails, the patrol said.

Mrs. Greco's car careened down an embankment, overturning two or three times, officers reported.

The Headland car had to be rolled back partially to free the driver, whose hips were caught between the seat and door.

Mrs. Greco was cited for traveling at a speed in excess of safe road conditions.

Both vehicles were damaged extensively, the patrol said.

Pastor Tells Kiwanis Of Early Experiences

His experiences as minister and teacher in a mining town in the West were related by the Rev. Joseph Varner at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Rev. Varner, chaplain at City Hospital, told of the attitudes of the town of 3,000 where he was a pastor and also taught school and coached.

He was introduced by John Mostoller, program chairman, who described the duties of Rev. Varner as chaplain and of his service to patients.

Induction of eight new members is scheduled for the club meeting next Thursday, Merrill Hall, president, announced.

and in those of Japan, another nation of avid mountaineers.

Except for attempts the Chinese Communists may have made, the American expedition is the 15th since 1921, when an eight-man British team explored the northern approaches to the mountain. It is the largest and costliest and it reached the summit earlier in the year than any of the others.

The expedition's leader, Norman G. Dyhrenfurth, 44, of Santa Monica, Calif., devoted all his energies over the last three years to organizing the climb. The son of a Swiss Himalayan expert, he climbed to about 25,000 feet as a member of the second unsuccessful Swiss attempt on Everest in 1952.

Dyhrenfurth chose 18 Americans and one Briton from more than 159 candidates on the basis of ability to work as a team. They practiced for two weeks climbing Mt. Rainier in Washington last fall.

Backers, chiefly the National Geographic Society, poured more than $400,000 into the American trek. The 895 porters carried 54,540 pounds of food and supplies.

The team assembled at Katmandu Feb. 13 and a week later began the 200-mile trek through the Himalyas to Everest.

It established the first climbing camp at 22,200 feet March 29. The next camp went up 500 feet higher. They located camp three on April 4 at 23,000 feet, camp four at 25,100 feet on April 13, camp five at 26,000 feet April 28.

On Tuesday, preparing for the final assault, the first assault team established camp six at 27,800 feet.

The expedition has not escaped the tragedy marring the history of assaults on Everest. John E. Breitenbach, 27, of Jackson, Wyo., was killed by an ice fall March 23, the 12th victim of the mountain's perilous face. His body is buried, probably forever, under an enormous mass on the Khumbu Ice Cascade, at 18,000 feet.

Bank Teller's Calm In Attempted Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Teller Carmen J. Chickino wasn't a bit flustered when a holdup man walked into a National City Bank branch Thursday and handed over a note which read: "This is a holdup. Put your 10s and 20s on the counter."

The 31-year-old teller told the man "I'm sorry. I don't have the authority. You'll have to see the manager."

As the man turned away, Chickino pressed the alarm button. The robber began to run.

He outran Chickino and an assistant manager for two blocks and escaped—but without a cent.

Council were insufficient and it was not entitled to a ballot place for the issue.

If the auditor had found the petitions proper, he would have certified the question to the Election Board.

Trades Council then sought a Common Pleas Court order to compel the auditor to certify the question to the Election Board. The labor group was upheld in the Lisbon court. The city then appealed to the district court. Arguments were heard by the district court April 2.

The auditor acted on two grounds in rejecting the petitions. He ruled that certain signatures had not been affixed on the petitions by the persons whose names they purported to be.

Since the petition circulator affixed an affidavit declaring that all the signatures were made properly in his presence, the affidavits were false and the entire petitions were invalid, the auditor ruled.

The city also contended that Trades Council did not file with the auditor's office a verified copy of the petitions it intended to circulate before it began their circulation.

The district court also affirmed Common Pleas Court in the case of Lisbon Diesel & Supply Co. vs. Joseph Clement of East Liverpool.

On July 1, 1960, the plaintiff obtained judgment for $2,211.97 against the defendant on a cognovit note. On Dec. 15, 1960, Common Pleas Court entered a temporary order restraining the plaintiff from proceeding further to enforce the judgment. The defendant was ordered to post a $2,500 bond.

On Feb. 5, 1962, a directed verdict was awarded the defendant and the bond was released. That finding was upheld in the district court's opinion issued yesterday.

Crime

jor areas of our responsibility ever since.

More recently, Congress has passed a series of laws designed to help combat organized crime and racketeering. Several of these new laws are among the approximately 170 federal investigative matters over which the FBI has jurisdiction today.

Q. The FBI has become the symbol in the public eye of a highly efficient law enforcement agency. What is the main reason for this accomplishment?

A. The combined loyalty and sacrifices of thousands of FBI employes—past and present—underlie the bureau's reputation today.

The FBI is a "we" organization. Major crimes are not solved through the efforts of any one person.

Q. Statistics indicate that crime has been increasing in the United States. Just how serious is the crime problem?

A. Preliminary crime statistics for 1962 revealed a 7 per cent increase in the number of serious crimes over 1961. From 1950 through 1962, serious crimes in the United States surged upward by 114 per cent.

These cold facts are sufficient to show that crime is one of the most serious problems facing the nation today. Over 2 million crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny of $50 and over, and automobile theft were committed in 1962.

Serious crime has increased five times faster than the nation's population in the five years preceding 1962.

The current trend, unless reversed, foretells a tragic breakdown of law and order which will require drastic action to avoid chaos.

Q. What is causing this increase in crime?

A. There are any number of factors involved in the crime problem. The size of a community; density, age, race, sex, economic status, mores and stability of its population; climate; effectiveness and strength of police agencies; efficiency and policies of prosecuting officials and courts; and the attitude of the public toward law enforcement are among the many factors.

It is my firm belief that the public attitude toward law enforcement is a major and basic cause of the current crime increase. Too many people today are concerning themselves only with rights. They are ignoring responsibilities. Too many citizens have adopted a "don't get involved" attitude about matters of crime.

Project Fire To Study Heat Due In Hop

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The amount of heat that moon exploring astronauts will encounter on returning through the earth's atmosphere will be studied by Project Fire.

The program involves launching Atlas-Antares rockets to an altitude of more than 400 miles. When the Antares second stage is at a height of 200 miles on the way back to earth, it will fire downward, pushing its nose cone to a speed of 25,000 miles an hour — the velocity at which the Apollo moonship will reenter the atmosphere.

Project Fire will help engineers design protective materials for the Apollo craft.

His experiences as minister and teacher in a mining town in the West were related by the Rev. Joseph Varner at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Rev. Varner, chaplain at City Hospital, told of the attitudes of the town of 3,000 where he was a pastor and also taught school and coached.

He was introduced by John Mostoller, program chairman, who described the duties of Rev. Varner as chaplain and of his service to patients.

Induction of eight new members is scheduled for the club meeting next Thursday, Merrill Hall, president, announced.

Mt. Everest

and in those of Japan, another nation of avid mountaineers.

Except for attempts the Chinese Communists may have made, the American expedition is the 15th since 1921, when an eight-man British team explored the northern approaches to the mountain. It is the largest and costliest and it reached the summit earlier in the year than any of the others.

The expedition's leader, Norman G. Dyhrenfurth, 44, of Santa Monica, Calif., devoted all his energies over the last three years to organizing the climb. The son of a Swiss Himalayan expert, he climbed to about 25,000 feet as a member of the second unsuccessful Swiss attempt on Everest in 1952.

Dyhrenfurth chose 18 Americans and one Briton from more than 159 candidates on the basis of ability to work as a team. They practiced for two weeks climbing Mt. Rainier in Washington last fall.

Backers, chiefly the National Geographic Society, poured more than $400,000 into the American trek. The 895 porters carried 54,540 pounds of food and supplies.

The team assembled at Katmandu Feb. 13 and a week later began the 200-mile trek through the Himalyas to Everest.

It established the first climbing camp at 22,200 feet March 29. The next camp went up 500 feet higher. They located camp three on April 4 at 23,000 feet, camp four at 25,100 feet on April 13, camp five at 26,000 feet April 28.

On Tuesday, preparing for the final assault, the first assault team established camp six at 27,800 feet.

The expedition has not escaped the tragedy marring the history of assaults on Everest. John E. Breitenbach, 27, of Jackson, Wyo., was killed by an ice fall March 23, the 12th victim of the mountain's perilous face. His body is buried, probably forever, under an enormous mass on the Khumbu Ice Cascade, at 18,000 feet.

Bank Teller's Calm In Attempted Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Teller Carmen J. Chickino wasn't a bit flustered when a holdup man walked into a National City Bank branch Thursday and handed over a note which read: "This is a holdup. Put your 10s and 20s on the counter."

The 31-year-old teller told the man "I'm sorry. I don't have the authority. You'll have to see the manager."

As the man turned away, Chickino pressed the alarm button. The robber began to run.

He outran Chickino and an assistant manager for two blocks and escaped—but without a cent.

Council were insufficient and it was not entitled to a ballot place for the issue.

If the auditor had found the petitions proper, he would have certified the question to the Election Board.

Trades Council then sought a Common Pleas Court order to compel the auditor to certify the question to the Election Board. The labor group was upheld in the Lisbon court. The city then appealed to the district court. Arguments were heard by the district court April 2.

The auditor acted on two grounds in rejecting the petitions. He ruled that certain signatures had not been affixed on the petitions by the persons whose names they purported to be.

Since the petition circulator affixed an affidavit declaring that all the signatures were made properly in his presence, the affidavits were false and the entire petitions were invalid, the auditor ruled.

The city also contended that Trades Council did not file with the auditor's office a verified copy of the petitions it intended to circulate before it began their circulation.

The district court also affirmed Common Pleas Court in the case of Lisbon Diesel & Supply Co. vs. Joseph Clement of East Liverpool.

On July 1, 1960, the plaintiff obtained judgment for $2,211.97 against the defendant on a cognovit note. On Dec. 15, 1960, Common Pleas Court entered a temporary order restraining the plaintiff from proceeding further to enforce the judgment. The defendant was ordered to post a $2,500 bond.

On Feb. 5, 1962, a directed verdict was awarded the defendant and the bond was released. That finding was upheld in the district court's opinion issued yesterday.

Evacuees included 600 of Hay River's 1,600 residents and all 750 residents of Fort Simpson. Flood waters from the Hay, Mackenzie and Laird rivers covered more than 90 per cent of Hay River and 80 per cent of Fort Simpson Thursday night.

Crime

jor areas of our responsibility ever since.

More recently, Congress has passed a series of laws designed to help combat organized crime and racketeering. Several of these new laws are among the approximately 170 federal investigative matters over which the FBI has jurisdiction today.

Q. The FBI has become the symbol in the public eye of a highly efficient law enforcement agency. What is the main reason for this accomplishment?

A. The combined loyalty and sacrifices of thousands of FBI employes—past and present—underlie the bureau's reputation today.

The FBI is a "we" organization. Major crimes are not solved through the efforts of any one person.

Q. Statistics indicate that crime has been increasing in the United States. Just how serious is the crime problem?

A. Preliminary crime statistics for 1962 revealed a 7 per cent increase in the number of serious crimes over 1961. From 1950 through 1962, serious crimes in the United States surged upward by 114 per cent.

These cold facts are sufficient to show that crime is one of the most serious problems facing the nation today. Over 2 million crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny of $50 and over, and automobile theft were committed in 1962.

Serious crime has increased five times faster than the nation's population in the five years preceding 1962.

The current trend, unless reversed, foretells a tragic breakdown of law and order which will require drastic action to avoid chaos.

Q. What is causing this increase in crime?

A. There are any number of factors involved in the crime problem. The size of a community; density, age, race, sex, economic status, mores and stability of its population; climate; effectiveness and strength of police agencies; efficiency and policies of prosecuting officials and courts; and the attitude of the public toward law enforcement are among the many factors.

It is my firm belief that the public attitude toward law enforcement is a major and basic cause of the current crime increase. Too many people today are concerning themselves only with rights. They are ignoring responsibilities. Too many citizens have adopted a "don't get involved" attitude about matters of crime.

Project Fire To Study Heat Due In Hop

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The amount of heat that moon exploring astronauts will encounter on returning through the earth's atmosphere will be studied by Project Fire.

The program involves launching Atlas-Antares rockets to an altitude of more than 400 miles. When the Antares second stage is at a height of 200 miles on the way back to earth, it will fire downward, pushing its nose cone to a speed of 25,000 miles an hour — the velocity at which the Apollo moonship will reenter the atmosphere.

Project Fire will help engineers design protective materials for the Apollo craft.

The Truth About Sir Winston

Comparisons between Sir Winston Churchill, retiring from the House of Commons after a long lifetime of service to Britain, and members of the U.S. Congress, living or dead, are absurd.

The United States does not have the parliamentary system that made the Churchill legend possible. He could not have happened here.

He almost didn't happen in Britain either —and that needs to be remembered. Those who are amusing themselves by speculating that he might use his honorary U.S. citizenship to run for Congress, after the United Kingdom constitutes its next House of Commons, should acknowledge in all good grace that the Churchills of this world survive by narrow squeaks.

If a Churchill reached the U.S. House of Representatives, even the U.S. Senate, he would be up against a tough proposition for survival.

IF HE SPOKE courageously for what he believed, his constituents would tear him apart over every point of disagreement. His associates would beat his brains out for thwarting their pet schemes.

They would stay away from his speeches on the floor of the House. Commentators would castigate him for ideas that did not coincide with their own.

His opponents would amass slush funds to underwrite the cost of unseating this disturbing element in their midst. Cartoonists would lampoon him. His jealous peers would rant and rave about him.

He would have to die to get the praise no one heaped on him when he was alive and unpopular. This has been, in fact, the singular thing about Sir Winston. He did not have to die to win praise.

PRAISE began to shower down on him in 1945 after the opposition won a postwar parliamentary election and he resigned as prime minister. It became a deluge after 1955, when he made way as a retreaded prime minister for his heir-apparent, Anthony Eden.

Ameicans should let themselves have no misapprehensions about how much they would have appreciated Winston Churchill had he served them, instead of the British.

They would have tried to beat him to death with the stuffing out of their shirts, just like the English.

Prolific!

Available For The Lightning

A Washington reception for Michigan Gov. George Romney and Mrs. Romney has led to speculation that it might be his opening move in a campaign for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964.

Gov. Romney, of course, disclaims reports he had his eye on a presidential nomination. Sen. Barry Goldwater protests that he is not thinking about the nomination, either. Formally, even Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York denies he is hoping the presidential lightning might strike him, though he obviously is exposing himself to all the political gods who will control the thunder and lightning in 1964.

This denial of intent while in hot pursuit of the rabbit is a standard political behaviorism. A candidate must never admit he is seeking the office he is seeking until he thinks he has nothing to lose by saying so.

YET THERE simply is no such thing in high-level politics as an office that seeks a man without all-out, systematic cooperation by the man.

Sometimes this seems to make no sense, but most of the time it does. It is a matter of commitment.

A would-be presidential candidate does not attain the role or play it alone. He cannot play it at all without strong support from hundreds of key people and thousands of workers in the political vineyards. All of these must have a chance to see and hear him and to make up their minds for him or against him. They must be free to chase, but they must not be forced to commit themselves until ready.

If the lightning is going to strike, its target must be in sight and in range. Sometimes the target is manipulated subtly, as was true of Wendell Willkie in 1940. Sometimes the manipulation is bone-crushing and strong-armed, as it was when John F. Kennedy went after the nomination hammer and tongs in 1960. But always there must be manipulation.

NO ONE CAN be considered for a presidential nomination without wanting to be considered.

Gov. Romney may very well be seeking the lightning, as Gov. Rockefeller and Sen. Goldwater plainly have been seeking it.

As for the possibility that former Vice President Nixon may be seeking it, too, his decision to move to New York City, where he will be overshadowed by Gov. Rockefeller, is puzzling.

The GOP strategist who operates quietly behind the scenes in New York, former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, may have something in mind that no one else has thought of yet.

Cuban Labor Unrest Seen On Rise

By Victor Riesel

During one of their recent secret daily conferences on the operation of their creaking island government, Fidel Castro and his lieutenents and their Russian advisers decided to wipe out all Cuban labor unions.

Victor Riesel

It was determined that there soon must be no vestige of unions, labor leadership or any other form of an organization which might ask for collective bargaining, wage increases or bonuses.

This is more drastic action than even the Soviets and Communist Chinese have taken. This plan literally means the creation of a system of forced labor throughout the island satellite.

This decision to make Cuban unions "disappear" is interpreted by the Cubans who brought the news out of Cuba as the mark of hysteria of the Fidelistas who face sullen slowdowns, sabotage and a breakdown of industrial and agricultural production unparalleled in any economy in the Western world.

From unimpeachable Cuban sources who met privately with U.S. friends last week end comes positive substantiation of Castro's unprecedented decision to wipe out all unions and every form of labor organization which could increase the cost of production by asking for increased benefits, pay and days off.

CUBAN SOURCES have exact quotations from Castro's economic czar, Ernesto (Che) Guevara. On Feb. 1, talking to 137 "vanguard workers" in Havana, Guevara said:

"The labor movement does not respond to revolutionary reality. Is it the fault of the leaders? Perhaps in part, but I think it is mainly due to the faulty structure of not having determined what a labor union is or what its destiny is in a country that is building socialism.

"The destiny of labor unions is to disappear.

"Labor unions must learn a new role, that of an ally of the administration in production."

Informed Cuban exiles believe Che Guevara would not have put himself on record if plans were not ready for the liquidation of the Cuban Revolutionary Workers' Federation (CTC-R).

THIS CONSISTS of 25 central labor organizations controlled through an executive committee Lazaro Pena. He is one of the most disciplined Communists in the international apparatus. Officially his title is CTC-R secretary general. Actually he is a national straw boss in charge of forcing the labor cadres to speed production to norms set by the Fidelistas' high command.

It is Pena who will become the director of the national forced labor organization which eventually will replace the 25 unions. It is tough Comrade Pena who has been reorganizing from the ground up.

He is in charge of the "Socialist emulation" drive which controls industrial and agricultural output — all the way from moving school teachers into the sugar cane fields at harvest time to complaining right on the factory floor that some comrades "improperly make a cigar which later does not light."

It was Pena who on March 27 announced that there would no longer be any wage increases. He put it this way:

"Now, instead of asking for raises . . . we expect . . . socialist wage scales which do not force us to continue along the path of capitalist-inherited wage anarchy.

ANTICIPATING workers' anger, Pena said:

"Whoever accuses socialism of imposing sacrifices on us is an untutored person, an ill-advised person, or is a malintentioned imbecile, or a counterrevolutionary without shame!"

Instead of wage increases, Pena offers the workers' groups a red flag if they meet production speeds. "The United Party of the Revolution will award a red flag," Pena said, "every 10 days to the sugar mill or farm that has achieved a 100 per cent daily production for 10 consecutive days."

For those Cuban labor officials who are still sufficiently courageous to attempt to defy the liquidation, there is purge and prison. Many have been forced out of office and their locals reorganized and merged.

Those who are silent suffer none the less. They are being told that there no longer is such a place as a "non-working" post of secretary or president of a local union. They must all work in field or factory. Or else . . .

Obviously the island satellite now is one massive slave labor camp.

Italian Paradox

By David Lawrence

Catholic Church Can't Stem Communist Growth

Why did the Communist party make such substantial gains in the national election held in Italy in the last few days? Thirty million persons went to the polls, and nearly 8 million voted for the Communist party. This was a gain of more than one million over their previous strength and means an additional 25 seats in Parliament, so that they now have the second largest number of seats in the chamber — 166 as against the 260 of the party called Christian Democrats.

David Lawrence

Yet Communism itself has been vehemently opposed by the Vatican. Also, the overwhelming majority of Italians are Roman Catholics.

About five years ago, this correspondent happened to be seated on a train alongside a Catholic bishop who had been attending the annual conference of the Catholic bishops in Washington. The conversation turned toward the influence of the Roman Catholic church in opposing communism in different countries of the world. This correspondent asked the Catholic prelate the following question:

"Why is it that in Italy, where nearly everybody is a Catholic, there are so many Communists?"

The bishop answered unhesitatingly and forthrightly:

"If I had been born and raised in Italy, and if I had not become a priest, I believe I might well have become a Communist."

The explanation that followed was along the same line that one hears today with reference to this same problem in Latin America, where the Catholic church is also the dominant religious influence in every country there.

THE MAIN POINT is that economic and social conditions have caused people in the lowest income groups to grasp at communism as a means of improving their lot. The church has no way to influence economic trends.

Italy today is rated high in economic growth and is enjoying a kind of national prosperity. But inflation prevails, and this is hurting the low-income groups. The men in business have not solved the problem of better wages for the middle and lower income classes.

Again and again in connection with Latin America, for instance, it has been asserted by citizens of this country who are familiar with conditions to the south of us that "foreign aid," through the Alliance for Progress or any other medium, cannot of itself assure that the incoming funds will percolate down to those who need better pay so as to provide an improvement in living standards.

Criticism is widespread that a better distribution of national income is needed in most Latin countries and, incidentally, neither Italy nor France is an exception.

Despite the popularity of Gen. de Gaulle, for instance, there is widespread discontent among the farmers and low-income groups in France. Strikes are frequent.

ITALY'S LEADERS in all parties are well aware of the basic economic factors that are affecting politics but there is no agreement among the leaders of the various parties as to how to handle the dilemma. The effort of Premier Fanfani in recent months to move toward the "left" didn't seem to hold in line the voters who wanted to go even further toward the left, and hence embraced the Communist party.

Meanwhile, the liberal party, composed largely of conservatives, gained one million votes. So the "middle of the road" policies cost the premier votes from both radical and non - radical supporters.

It's not clear to the outside world how much influence Moscow has wielded in recent months inside the Italian Communist party. Not a single Russian appears openly. The same thing is true in other countries where the Communist party is led by native sons with a socialistic or left-wing proclivity.

COMMUNIST political parties in these countries are usually composed of apparently loyal citizens who, while they may at times express a sympathy with Moscow's aims internationally, endeavor to keep out of international affairs and focus instead on domestic factors of discontent.

Italy's election is a significant development. It's a warning to all Latin countries that the influence of the Catholic church will continue to be exerted effectively in personal religion, but it will not be able by itself to block the rising tides of discontent due to domestic politics and local economic factors.

It's The Truth

By Truman Twill

Make yourself comfortable on the couch and we'll get down to business.

There's nothing organically wrong with you, as they used to say on television. But what you've been through lately was enough to induce a mental breakdown in a three-toed sloth. So quit trembling.

This country is like that play "Gaslight," in which the papa drives the mama out of her lint-picking mind by pretending not to notice that she has noticed what he has been doing to make her doubt her sanity, such as when a picture is hanging upside down and he wonders why she did it when the fact is he did it himself. A repulsive situation.

That's the way it has been with all of us. Things have been hanging upside down. When we notice them, we're chided for that and if we don't notice them we're chided for that, too. Everything is topsy-turvy — weather, business conditions, social conditions, international policy and you name it.

WE'RE AT the end of our rope with no prospect of improvement.

But help is on the way.

One day soon, it will be possible to re-establish contact with the earth. This comes under the heading of "occupational therapy." It works like this:

We will tackle some project that will necessitate getting our hands in natural dirt. We will feel its texture and smell its aroma. And suddenly it will be clear to us that this is the ultimate reality — this handful of dirt.

This is the earth, not the multitudes of things that crawl on the earth, fly over it and burrow into it. This is what was here, before any of us and will be here after all of us.

It's true, this earth. There is no deceit in it, no rancor, no malice, no flattery, no ability to give or receive pain. The earth is indispensable, yet it charges no fees and exacts no tribute other than respect.

Whether its beneficiaries are dirt farmers or window-box flower raisers, they owe respect to the source of everything that is — everything good and bad.

What has happened lately is that they have are out of touch with the reality that can give men freedom from lies, deceits, false alarms, misrepresentations, propaganda and distortions.

Reality is not a "Gaslight" version that undermines sanity but the solidity of the earth that restores sanity.

If things have been getting away from you, find a shovel and start digging. Stop every few minutes to renew touch with the reality you're looking for.

Pick up a handful of dirt and squeeze it. Savor its fragrance. Muse on its significance. Bear in mind it contains the dust of everything that ever was and will be all that's left some day of everything that ever will be.

You can get up off the couch now. Go buy a shovel, a rake and something to plant in the good earth. It's May. Time to put out of mind all the things that aren't so which people have been telling you for the last few months.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

If and when wire-tapping ever gets the full sanction of law, only pay telephones should be tapped because in crime stories and movies the criminals always use them to avoid detection. Some other fascinating conversations also would be overheard, like: "Okay Mom, the movie is over and you can come and pick us up in the car."

Two unforgettable characters: One was a guy who always did things the wrong way and bragged that he had been in 20 jails, and the other was a justice of the peace in a state which still has such justices. The bad guy hardly ever did anything to hurt anyone but himself; he was the sort who assumed rules were there to be broken and if there was a wrong way to do something he could find that way. These two fellows were side by side in beds in a hospital ward. The justice of the peace was whiling away time by making a leather wallet and one day called over another patient to his bed and said: "I'm making this wallet to hold all the money I am going to fine this chap in the next bed if he ever gets in my jurisidiction when we get out of here."

Two things you can't hardly find any more in stories: Gyroscopes and those fancy little gadgets for sharpening double-edged safety razor blades. We thought a gyroscope would be especially interesting to play with in this age of space and inertial guidance, but the first one we got didn't work and neither did its replacement.

This strange parallel can't be carried one step further without falling apart, but back in the 19th century, old King Alfonso XIII of Spain probably said, "I don't know how long we can tolerate that revolutionary republican government just 90 miles off the shores of Cuba."

Critics of the present leader of France, who has a knack for upsetting international applecarts, have coined a phrase; "As bitter as Gaulle."

There is nothing like a heavy rainstorm or snowstorm to quiet a barking dog. Bad weather keeps the pooch in its doghouse. Kind of a counter-irritant.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Odd Facts

Motels are not so modern as you might be thinking. The first motels were built for travelers by imperial decree along the thousands of miles of roads in the Roman empire. Spaced a day's walk apart, the "mansiones," as they were called, were all located near public baths so that dusty travelers could wash up before retiring. But, just as today, those citizens with extra cash could have the luxury of a room with private bath.

Texas In Transition

By Raymond Moley

This is written after two crossings on the highways of Texas within the past three weeks. The first was over the northwest corner, the second from El Paso to the northeast corner. In the course of those travels, politically sophisticated Texans convinced me that the state is not just trying to establish a two-party system. It already has one.

A well-informed editor said: "I have anticipated for some years that Texas would have a strong Republican party. But it has come sooner than I expected. There is scarcely an office of any importance in the state for which it can be assumed that a Democrat is sure to be elected.

"For a time the political struggle was between the conservative and liberal wings of the Democratic party. Now conservatives, especially the young people are turning to the Republican party."

While I was in Texas a small newspaper story said that a Republican had been chosen mayor by the city council of Fort Worth. This event passed almost unnoticed. Ten years ago, it would have attracted almost as much attention as the election of a Jewish mayor of Dublin.

THREE WEEKS AGO, a Republican was elected to the legislature in a by-election in Corpus Christi. The new member will find several Republicans already there.

Two members of the Texas delegation in the House of Representatives in Washington are Republican: Bruce Alger, who already has veteran status, and Ed Foreman of Odessa, who was elected last year. John Tower represents Texas in the Senate.

Peter O'Donnell, Jr., state chairman, is seeking to achieve for the state what he has built up in Dallas over the last 10 years.

Democratic Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, who must run for re-election next year, shows signs of panic. He was elected by the liberal wing of the Democratic party in Texas at a time when that group was considerably stronger than it is now.

While the Kennedy administration finds kinship with Yarborough's liberalism, it must be careful not to offend Vice President Lyndon Johnson who, while he makes verbal gestures toward all Democrats, is more clearly identified with the conservative Democrats.

The new governor, John B. Connally, Jr., is moderately conservative. If Yarborough wins in the primary against conservative opponents, many may well turn to the Republican candidate in the election.

A long time ago, the now 94-year-old and little noted John Nance Garner told me that there would never be a Republican party in Texas until Republicans began to capture county offices. There, he said, is the solid core of the Democratic party in Texas.

Already the Republican party is making gains in rural areas.

THE RURAL INFLUENCE is weakening. For 75 per cent of the population of Texas is in urban areas. This compares with 7 per cent in Michigan. The balance of power is already shifting to the cities and their growing suburbs. And there, in every statewide election Republicans either have a majority or are nearing it.

In Houston I was told that the greatest Republican gains are among younger voters.

Texas students ever since the war have been leaning to conservatism. Now they are turning to the Republican party as the best party alternative for conservatives. Peter O'Donnell himself is only 38, and Sen. John Tower is very popular in his state.

The editor quoted above said that this drift to Republicanism has little to do with the integration-segregation issue. For Texas has been a leader among Southern states in accepting the fact of integration. Schools are admitting qualified Negroes. Public facilities, except in certain counties, are open to both races.

of the Haitian offer to let 15 political refugees in the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince leave the country and the other seven go to the Colombian Embassy.

Fears remained of a blowup inside seething Haiti as President Francois Duvalier strove to crush his foes. Diplomats in Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, believe Duvalier may launch a new wave of repression now that he is no longer under surveillance of the Organization of American States, which sent a fact-finding mission to Port au Prince to investigate Dominican charges.

The five-nation OAS mission returned to Santo Domingo Thursday night after two days of talks with Haitian officials. After talking with Dominican President Juan Bosch, the mission is expected to return to Washington in a day or two.

It was sent to the Island of Hispaniola—which Haiti and the Dominican Republic share—after Haitian troops invaded the Dominican Embassy in an attempt to get hold of opponents of Duvalier who took refuge there. Bosch threatened to retaliate with force, and for a time war appeared imminent.

Car Upset Hurts Industry Woman

An Industry area woman was injured this morning when she lost control of her car while en route to work in Midland and it overturned in a ditch on Kelly's Rd.

Miss Hester White, 35, of R.D. 1 was trapped in the 1955 sedan, which landed on its roof, until a wrecker could be summoned.

Taken to Rochester General Hospital, Miss White was treated for an abrasion of the upper left leg. The mishap was timed at 6:50 a.m. and some three hours later Miss White remained in the hospital's emergency room awaiting a physician's examination.

Industry Police Chief Guy St. Esprit said Miss White lost control and her car struck a soft berm. The auto veered back across the highway to the left side, hit another soft shoulder and overturned in the ditch, he explained.

Council Will Get Data On Street Discussion

Counciman Edward Massey is scheduled to report to fellow members of Council Monday night on a conference held with county commissioners at Lisbon Thursday on a proposal for a joint city-county project for improvement of Shadyside Ave.

Massey represented Council at the discussion yesterday, as the street lies in his ward. Also attending were Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, Engineer George S. Bloomgren and Council Clerk, Lawrence Zollinger.

Shadyside residents requested the project several months ago, seeking widening, resurfacing and possible elimination of the curves. Council sought aid from the commissioners because the street lies partly inside the corporate limits and partly in the unincorporated area in the county's jurisdiction.

On Sahara A-Tests France Eases Dispute

ALGIERS (AP) — The dispute between Algeria and France over French nuclear tests in the Sahara has been eased by France's agreement to withdraw all its troops from its former territory by late 1964. The previous withdrawal date was July 1, 1965.

Nothing was said about French agreement to refrain from testing there. The French plan to build a testing base in their Pacific Island territory.

City To Begin Trash Pickup On North Side

The annual spring cleanup campaign, a citywide collection of refuse, will begin Monday morning in the North Side area, Incinerator Supt. John Melvin reminded householders today.

The two-week campaign will continue through Friday, May 17, with trucks following the usual trash collection schedules, Melvin pointed out.

The collection is scheduled Monday on these streets:

Smithfield St., Orchard Grove Ave., Princeton Ave., Columbia Ave., Oliver St., Fairmont St., Highland Colony, Gardendale, Maplewood to the city limits, Park Blvd., Beechwood, Armstrong Ln., Mayberry Ln., Hill Blvd., Manor Ln., Midway Ln., Cain St. and St. Clair Ave.

The drive will move into the West End area Tuesday, covering these streets: Fairview St., Division St., Hague Ave., Shadyside Ave., Church St., Denver St., Edwards Ave., Park Pl., Jethro, W. 8th St., Ridgeway Ave., Fenton St., Moore St., Claiborne St., May St., Florence St., John St., Burford St., Alton St. and California Hollow.

Melvin emphasized that trash should be placed at the curb or the property line the night before a scheduled collection, as trucks will begin their rounds at 7 a. m.

All trash should be placed in sturdy containers, preferably baskets or metal receptacles, Melvin said. Hedge trimmings, newspapers and similar material should be tied in bundles not over four feet long, he added.

On Sahara A-Tests France Eases Dispute

ALGIERS (AP) — The dispute between Algeria and France over French nuclear tests in the Sahara has been eased by France's agreement to withdraw all its troops from its former territory by late 1964. The previous withdrawal date was July 1, 1965.

Nothing was said about French agreement to refrain from testing there. The French plan to build a testing base in their Pacific Island territory.

Court Upsets Land Award

The Ohio Supreme Court at Columbus has reversed a $32,000 award for the Stover Leslie Flying Service, Inc., for 4.4 acres of land in California Hollow utilized in the construction of the new Freeway.

A Common Pleas Court jury in March 1961 awarded the firm $28,700 for the land — a former stone quarry — and $4,000 for damages. The Ohio Highway Department had offered $1,825 for the hillside land and $600 damages.

The state appealed the decision to the 7th District Court of Appeals which in March 1962 affirmed the jury award.

However, the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday reversed both the lower courts, and referred the case back to Common Pleas Court, ruling that the trial court admitted evidence prejudicial to the highway department.

The high court held 6-1 that admission on the value of minerals and a concrete culvert was prejudicial to the state.

NEW SALINEVILLE TRUCK. A new 1½-ton dump truck for Salineville's street department was put into operation this week by Pete Crowall, left, street supervisor, shown receiving the keys from Mayor Stanley Fitch. The heavy-duty truck cab and chasis were obtained from the Hart Motor Co. for $3,000 and a used truck bed purchased at Lisbon for $100 and reconditioned by the mayor. The village's old truck will be kept for use as a road oiler.

Courthouse Job Dispute To Be Aired

LISBON — A hearing will be held May 23 by the 7th District Court of Appeals at Youngstown on an appeal filed by Mrs. Jane L. Case of Columbiana, ex-Courthouse employe discharged two years ago by county commissioners.

Mrs. Case, switchboard operator appointed by Democratic commissioners, was released by the Republican commissioners along with some other Courthouse employes, but was ordered re-instated by the Ohio Board of Personnel.

After working one day, she was again released by the commissioners on grounds she had violated Civil Service regulations by holding a political office, but was restored to her job by the state board which said she could be suspended for a while but not released.

The Common Pleas Court, on an appeal by Prosecutor William Brokaw, ruled Mrs. Case could be discharged, but she then appealed the ruling to the Appellate Court.

The Youngstown hearing had been set for April 2 but a continuance was granted at the request of her attorney.

Miller Discounts Major Drive To Boost Romney

WASHINGTON (AP) — William E. Miller, Republican national chairman, said today he knows of no concerted drive to boost Michgan Gov. George Romney for the 1964 presidential nomination.

"I'd say he is being considered as well as many other candidates," the New York congressmen said in an interview.

Romney himself tried to quash rumors Thursday that friends are quietly putting him forward as the potential Republican candidate in 1964.

"I am not a candidate for president; I am not going to become one," Romney said again and again at a news conference.

The governor called in reporters to deny a story in the New York Times that he would be "quietly put forward" at a reception given here Thursday by Mrs. J. Willard Marriott, the Republican national committeewoman for the District of Columbia.

Romney would not go the way of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman, a Civil War hero who declared in 1884 when boomed for the Republican nomination: "If nominated, I will not accept; if elected, I will not serve."

"I am not a candidate for president," Romney repeated. "I am not going to become one."

He added: "I don't care what the timing is, six months from now or nine months from now, I will say the same thing."

Asked if Romney seemed available for a draft at the Republican convention in 1964, Miller said, "I don't think there is such a thing as a draft." And the GOP chairman added that he doubts Sherman-like statements apply these days.

Romney's case is no different from that of several other prominent Republicans, Miller said. "If any were selected they would run and be willing to serve," he said.

Miller likened Romney's situation to that of Republican Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania. Both took over states long held by Democrats and both have been spoken highly of by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Miller said.

SOME ELECTRIC TOOTHBRUSHES APPROVED
Q. Do dental authorities approve of the new electric toothbrushes?
A. The American Dental Association's Council on Dental Therapeutics, an agency established to evaluate test data submitted by manufacturers, concluded that electric toothbrushes made by General Electric and E. R. Squibb & Sons are safe and appear to have cleaning ability superior to ordinary toothbrushes. However, the Council made an important reservation: "It is still too early to know the therapeutic value of these brushes; their ability to aid in the prevention of dental caries (decay) and periodontitis (gum disease) can not be determined as yet."
FACE BLEMISHES
Q. My face is covered with dark freckles, and they are increasing in size. What can I do to get rid of them?
A. These may not be the common type of freckles. See your family physician or a dermatologist (skin specialist).

SOME ELECTRIC TOOTHBRUSHES APPROVED
Q. Do dental authorities approve of the new electric toothbrushes?
A. The American Dental Association's Council on Dental Therapeutics, an agency established to evaluate test data submitted by manufacturers, concluded that electric toothbrushes made by General Electric and E. R. Squibb & Sons are safe and appear to have cleaning ability superior to ordinary toothbrushes. However, the Council made an important reservation: "It is still too early to know the therapeutic value of these brushes; their ability to aid in the prevention of dental caries (decay) and periodontitis (gum disease) can not be determined as yet."
FACE BLEMISHES

Nixon Stirs New Wave Of Speculation

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon has stirred up a whole new round of political speculation with his announced intention to move to New York June 1 and practice law.

The former vice president, who missed becoming president by 118,550 votes in 1960, then suffered political disaster last year when he lost a bid to become governor of California, made the announcement Thursday in a brief statement handed out by a friend. Nixon could not be reached for comment.

There was some speculation that Nixon's move was a change of political base aimed at trying for the presidency in 1964 from New York State—but some Republican politicians quickly dismissed this.

They said Nixon hardly would have invaded Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's home state in hopes of picking up support for a presidential bid.

Rockefeller, widely mentioned as a potential 1964 GOP choice for the presidency, said he thinks it is wonderful that Nixon is coming here and said he hopes Nixon will be active in New York politics.

A newsman asked the governor how he would feel if Nixon supported someone other than Rockefeller.

"It's a free country," Rockefeller said.

Dr. William J. Donaldy told a three-judge court Thursday the 43-year-old Gedraitis has the arteries of a 75-year-old man. He said there is a direct relationship "between Gedraitis' hardened arteries and his sudden loss of consciousness last Nov. 2."

Ohio Senate Delays Action On 'Blue Law'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Sunday sales law may be straightened out in this session of the legislature, but don't count on it.

There is a general feeling in the Senate that a House-approved bill, nurtured carefully by Rep. Edmund James, R-Noble, will not be the vehicle to bring the problem out of the wilderness.

The only apparent alternative is a bill by Sen. Kline L. Roberts, R-Franklin, to water the bill down to a $5-to-$25 fine for every violation of the Sunday closing law.

Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechen says it will be at least a week or two before senators are in a position to say definitely that the House-passed bill is dead or that the Roberts bill is alive.

Right now, Sunday sales prohibitions are an admitted mess. Neither police nor courts are sure how to deal with the situation. Court interpretations have varied so widely there might as well be no law at all.

Present law, unchanged for more than a century because of a religious - based prohibition against "common labor" on Sunday, still prevails, although largely ignored.

Now it appears the Sunday-closing issue may remain hanging in the air for another two years.

The Roberts proposal, which could be considered a cheap price of doing business on a forbidden day, doesn't appear to have substantial backing.

The James proposal, reached after weeks of study in the House, would eliminate the present religion - backed prohibition against common labor on Sunday and substitute a prohibition against Sunday sales of property, with certain exceptions.

There are at least two proposals before the legislature to abandon all restrictions on Sunday sales, but they show no capability of going anywhere.

Before going home for the weekend Thursday, House members decided it was time to give voters a chance to know who is running for office—John Jones, the incumbent, or John Jones, a rank outsider.

They passed and sent to the Senate a bill giving an office holder seeking reelection first choice of how his name shall appear on the ballots when an opponent has the same name.

The idea is to permit the person who holds the job a break by allowing the word "incumbent" to appear with his name on the ballot.

Round Steak Rolls Will Delight Children

These neat little bundles of goodness will delight the children. Let them have the fun of selecting their own and helping themselves from the handsome platter. With just enough spicy touches to heighten the beef flavor but not smother it, these steak rolls are an instant success when the youngsters ask for steak.

Complement the steak rolls with sliced yellow turnips, baked potatoes with sour cream and chives, refillable glasses of milk and you serve health and good nutrition.

Tomato Round Steak Rolls
(4-6 Servings)

1¼ pounds round steak
Unseasoned meat tenderizer
2 medium onions, chopped
3 sprigs parsley, chopped
6 slices bacon, cut up
1 3-ounce can sliced or chopped mushrooms, drained (reserve liquid)
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 bouillon cube
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce

Cut steak in two slices. Pound each slice until it is about ¼ inch thick, sprinkle with meat tenderizer. Cook chopped onions, parsley, and drained mushrooms with bacon for about 5 minutes.

Cut each steak in three sections. Spread about 3 tablespoon of vegetable mixture on each piece and roll tightly. Fasten with toothpicks or tie with string.

Brown the steak rolls in the hot bacon fat. Add mushroom liquid, sauce, mustard, bouillon cube, and tomato sauce. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer for 15 to 20 minutes.

Man, 29, Held To Court For Vehicle Theft

Arraigned in Municipal Court for the second time in two days on the same charge of stealing a pickup truck, a 29-year-old Newell area man was bound over to the Grand Jury under $5,000 bond this morning by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Ronald O'Neal Howell of Joetown renewed a not guilty plea which he filed Thursday when he was brought to court the first time on a charge of operating a vehicle without the owner's consent.

The affidavit was signed by Leslie C. Ash, 635 Blackmore St., alleging that Howell took a 1950 model pickup truck from its parking place in front of the owner's home Wednesday night or early yesterday.

A similar charge filed by the police department was dismissed by the court yesterday. Judge Chertoff commented one of the essential elements was missing from the prosecution's case, as no evidence was introduced that the truck actually was stolen.

The judge pointed out that in a preliminary hearing the lower court has two functions — to determine if a crime has been committeed and if there is "reasonable and probably cause" to hold the defendant to the Grand Jury.

In the second preliminary hearing this morning, Ash was summoned to testify that his truck was stolen. The two arresting officers, Patrolmen Howard Frontz and Orin C. Smith, repeated testimony which they gave yesterday, relating that they apprehended Howell about 7 a. m. Thursday while he slept in the cab of the truck in Thompson Park.

For the second time, Howell declined to testify or give an unsworn statement in his own defense.

After hearing the evidence for the second time, Judge Chertoff ruled that the two essential elements of the case were present and ordered Howell held to the Grand Jury.

Howell was treated at City Hospital about 6 p. m. Thursday for lacerations of the legs.

Police said the prisoner was taken to the hospital after he complained he had been injured prior to his arrest. He complained one of his fingers was broken and he had a groin injury. However, a physician was able to find only the leg lacerations, officers said. He was returned to the jail after treatment.

Hot Debate In Chicago Case

When Can Citizen Use Gun To Guard Property?

CHICAGO (AP)—At what point may a citizen use a gun to protect his property?

A lively debate in Chicago on that question is posed by the case of Mario Fagnani, 32, a mechanical engineer.

Fagnani told police he woke early Sunday, and saw four youths pushing his car from the driveway of his West Side home. He snatched up a pistol, ran downstairs and fired.

Juan Figueroa, 18, was shot in the left leg. He was carried away by his companions in another auto that police said had been stolen.

For the shooting Fagnani was charged with reckless conduct. If convicted, he could face a maximum penalty of one year in prison or a $1,000 fine.

The charge was filed under a new Illinois Criminal Code adopted last year. Under the code a person may use force likely to cause great injury or death only if he reasonably believes such force is necessary to prevent the commission of a crime that carries the threat of violence.

Soon authorities began to express conflicting opinions.

Police Supt O. W. Wilson said the code gives "added advantage to the criminal element," and dovetails with a nationwide trend in that direction.

Judge Richard B. Austin of the U.S. District Court, chairman of a committee of lawyers who drafted the code, defended it. He tossed a pencil on his desk and asked a reporter: "If you steal that pencil and run out of here, am I entitled to shoot you?"

Fagnani, free on $200 bond, will have a hearing May 14 in Boys Court.

Figueroa is in good condition in the City Jail's hospital. Charges against him will be determined when he recovers.

Figueroa's three companions were seized by police when they brought Figueroa to a hospital for emergency treatment. They are juveniles and will appear in Family Court on May 21.

German Woman Plans Return To Homeland

CLEVELAND (A) — Mrs. Ariane Tebbenjohanns has told the U.S. Immigration Service she plans to return May 15 to West Germany, but she says she wants to come back to the United States eventually and plans to apply for citizenship.

The German divorcee came here earlier this year after a romance by mail developed between her and Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, convicted wife-slayer. She said she hoped to marry Sheppard, but a request for such a marriage was ruled out by Maury C. Koblentz, Ohio corrections commissioner.

Sheppard is serving a life sentence for the 1954 slaying of his wife, Marilyn.

Suppose you had to send 13,050 children to school?

This would cost more than $4½ million. This year, Ohio Power Company will pay an estimated $6,525,000 in real and personal property taxes in Ohio—70 per cent of this amount will go directly to the operation of our schools. This is the amount of money required to keep 13,050 children in school for one year.

As one of Ohio's biggest taxpayers, we help support the cost of government and all kinds of public services: roads, schools, libraries, hospitals, fire and police protection. To the figure above, add our Federal tax bill and the total is over $30 million for 1963—more money than we pay for wages, or coal or any other operating expense.

Ohio Power, an investor-owned electric company, is proud of its ability to meet its civic responsibility—and, in addition, to continue to bring you the best possible electric service at the lowest possible cost.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Along about the time our daffodils and daisies bloom. . .so do all of our neighbors flowers, we all have yellow daffodils and white daisies.

Here's how I make mine different. I dye those pretty things!

I cut them after the dew has left and they are quite dry. Usually along about noon they will be real thirsty for another drink.

Don't give 'em just plain water.

Take some of your food coloring (the same kind you keep in your kitchen to color cakes and icings) and pour about a teaspoonful into an old fruit jar.

Add a little dab of water. Not over two tablespoons. We only want the colored water to be about one-eighth of a inch deep. You will have a strong colored dye now.

Cut the stems of the posies off straight. Insert the stem of the flowers into this little don of coloring.

Forget 'em.

IN AN HOUR or so you will begin to see them change. These may be left only an hour or so for light coloring or even as long as overnight for deep colors. (Children get such a thrill from watching the dye go up through the veins and tint the blossom. Most amazing thing you ever saw.)

When the blossom reaches the desired color, rinse the bottom of the stems (or you can snip that last half inch with snippers) and arrange as usual.

For white flowers, any color or mixtures of coloring may be used.

For yellow flowers, red coloring turns a beautiful orange and copper tone, depending on how strong you make your color.

Blue coloring will turn a yellow flower pale green and chartreuse.

It is very beautiful if you have a bowl of daffodils to remove half of the flowers from the coloring within an hour and leave the other half longer. Some will be darker than others.

Two or three different colors of flowers may be mixed together in one flower arrangement.

I don't know of many kinds of flowers that cannot be dyed this way. Try it. Cake and food coloring is cheap. It's probably in your kitchen on the shelf right now.

-:-

AND DON'T forget that these colorings can be mixed to make all kinds of colors. Red and blue make purple, yellow and red make orange and blue and yellow make green. These are beautiful on white daffodils and daisies.

Variety is the spice of life. Give your pretty cut flowers a change too. They will love it.

And for those of you who make corsages . . . try dyeing those blooms by this method

So . . . go dunk your Daisies and Daffodils in Dye.

HELOISE.

P.S.: And don't throw the dye misture away after you use it. Just cap your jar with a lid and save it for next time you want pretty dyed flowers.

DEAR HELOISE: I have loved my nylon net dishcloth! I must share the new uses I have discovered for it.

It is absolutely marvellous for scrubbing baked potatoes and cleaning out soap dishes. It is also wonderful when used with a good cleaner for getting crayon marks off walls (some of us do have artistic off-spring!)

BETSY.

DEAR GALS: This woman means to go to your dime or department store and buy some nylon net, which will cost you approximately 39 cents a yard and it will be 72 inches wide. Cut this up and make your dishcloths. Some people use them single, others double them.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a very heavy duty throw rug that will get curled up at the edges where the children scuffle their feet, so I took liquid starch and poured it (undiluted) on the back of the rug. I let this dry flat. . . upside down. Now it does not curl anymore.

I have a set of bookends that are not quite heavy enough to hold many strong books up so I took a piece of elastic about one foot long and nailed it from the bottom of one bookend to the other. Now neither one can fall!

Judge's Ruling Waited On Matter Of Barber Shop

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A Common Pleas Court judge is expected to rule today in the matter of Lewis Gegner, whose barber shop in nearby Yellow Springs has been the scene of anti - discrimination demonstrations.

Wednesday, Gegner asked Greene County Common Pleas Court for a temporary restraining order against demonstrators in his shop. Judge Warren Young is sitting in Greene County on assignment from Warren County.

Student demonstrators from Antioch College crowded into Gegner's shop Saturday and Tuesday, protesting what they say is continued racial discrimination. Gegner closed the shop Wednesday and Thursday, but there were pickets in front of it Thursday anyway.

Keep In Trim

Week-End Strategy Holds Weight Line

Comes the week - end and the tendency is to slip off the straight and starchless path and sow a few wild calories. Fair enough. You can have your cake and keep slimming. But don't do a Rip Van Winkle and say "just this once won't count."

Ida Jean Kain

Psychologists explain that every time you make an exception, you lose ground and go back nearly to where you started.

Use slimming strategy. Now that you've cut your appetite down to size, you can hold the weight line happily, provided you do not overeat at any one meal. The secret of successful slimming is to lessen your food capacity. Overeating enlarges your food capacity and lessens resistance to overeating.

You can have delicious food and not overload. Enjoy the triumphant feeling that at long last you know how to cope with calories. You realize now that good eating is not synonymous with overeating. Think slim, pre-plan your week-end meals and you're in the driver's seat.

When you eat to beat the overload, slimming becomes an exciting challenge, not a dieting ordeal.

Theodore (Tom) Trbovich, 419 Midland Ave., Midland, a former employe of both the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., and the Mackintosh Hemphill Co., before it became an E. W. Bliss Co. Division, died Thursday at 11:50 a.m. at his home after a brief illness. He was 79.

He was born April 9, 1884, in Yugoslavia, and had been a resident of Midland since 1913, coming from South Side, Pittsburgh. He worked as a melter foreman at both plants. Later he was employed by the Borough of Midland for eight years, retiring in 1958.

Services will be held Monday at 1 p.m. at the church by Fr. Milorad Dobrota. Burial will be in the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church Cemetery in South Side.

Friends may call after 7 tonight at the Cannon Funeral Home in Midland, where memorial services will be conducted Sunday at 8 p.m.

Mr. Mahoney was born in Malakoff, Tex., June 16, 1919, son of William L. Mahoney of Waco, Tex., and Mrs. Agnes E. Mahoney of San Antonio. He was a World War II Navy veteran and a member of the East Liverpool VFW Post.

He also leaves his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Mahoney, and two sons, William Kevin Mahoney and Dale Allen Mahoney, all at home; two brothers, Lee Mahoney of Corpus Christi, Tex., and Robert Mahoney of Santa Barbara, Calif., and two sisters in Texas.

Wilbert T. Koerber, 48, of Allandale, Fla., operator of the Bermuda Motel and Restaurant there, died Thursday about noon at his home after an illness of several weeks.

He was born in East Liverpool and moved to Florida 10 years ago. He was a member of the East Liverpool Masonic Lodge 681.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Thelma Goddard Koerber, and a son, Thomas Koerber, both at home; two brothers, Sherry Koerber and Norris Koerber, and two sisters, Mrs. Nina Myers, and Mrs. Evalina Plemmons, all of East Liverpool.

Mr. Relich died Thursday at City Hospital.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Helen Relich, and two sisters, Mrs. Ann Rodgosak and Mrs. Danica Krajacic, all of Yugoslavia.

Hancock Man Sent To Pen

A 26-year-old New Cumberland man was sentenced to 1-10 years in Moundsville State Penitentiary after pleading guilty to a charge of breaking and entering today in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland.

Dewaine Mercer was sentenced by Judge James G. McClure, who also granted probation to two other defendants indicted by the April Grand Jury.

Mercer pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering New Cumberland High School. The sheriff's office said the defendant had a prior record.

Nathan Stout, 28, of Chester was allowed to plead guilty to a charge of petty larceny and was sentenced to a year in County Jail. He was indicted on a charge of grand larceny.

Leroy McDonald, charged on two counts of breaking and entering, one at the Ildebrando Ciccarelli grocery store in Chester, was sentenced to 1-10 years in prison.

Judge McClure held hearings on probation requests filed in behalf of Stout and McDonald, and placed each defendant on probation for two years.

Expansion Set In Park Area

Plans were aired to enlarge Hammond Park by ax and sickle when the Park Commission of the Wellsville recreation area met Thursday night.

The reclamation program will include cutting of underbrush that has grown on park land not now in use, and the Southern Local Ruritan Club will aid in the project.

The commission said it is concerned that visitors are driving over grassy areas and the ballpark, leaving tracks and ruts when the weather is damp.

Parking areas and routes will be marked more distinctly. Drivers who violate the rules will be issued tickets if the practice continues, the commission said.

In an inspection, the park was found in "surprisingly good" condition despite some damage by severe wind storms. Re-wiring of the old pavilion is planned in the improvement program. The roads are in "fairly good" condition, the commission said.

Pete Mase, temporary chairman, was in charge. The commission will reorganize upon the appointment of a seventh member by Council. Next regular meeting is May 13 at the park.

$250 Fine Given Driver In Crash

Herbert W. Virden, 55, of the Sprucevale Rd., cited by police late Tuesday night after his station wagon hit a utility pole and then dived over a hillside on Park Way, was fined $250 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated.

Virden's hearing had been continued from Wednesday, when he requested time to obtain counsel. However, he returned to court this morning without an attorney. Police said the front of Virden's auto was smashed in the crash and the driver suffered a cut lip.

Earlier, Lonzo Williams, 22, of 14th St., Midland, was fined $150 and costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a similar charge. Williams was arrested Tuesday night while in an auto on Market St., police said.

The word "Mrs.", according to speech authorities, cannot be written in full. Originally, "Mrs." was an abbreviation of "mistress", but that word has changed its meaning. You cannot write out "missus" or "missis," since these are in the slang category. And so, "Mrs." stands as a word all by itself.

Firms, Union Air Pensions In Chinaware

Union and management representatives met Thursday at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport to discuss the details of establishing a pension plan for workers in the American chinaware industry as provided in a new working agreement that took effect last Dec. 1.

The pension plan was provided for the employes of six chinaware concerns in a contract which they signed with the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

It affects employes of the Sterling China Co. and the Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville, Buffalo China, Inc., of Buffalo, N. Y., the Walker China Co. of Bedford, the Mayer China Co. of Beaver Falls and Jackson Vitrified China Co. of Falls Creek, Pa.

The organization is known as the Chinaware-IBOP Trust Fund Committee. In the meeting yesterday, the IBOP was represented by E. L. Wheatley, president; Charles F. Jordan, secretary - treasurer; William Rail, second vice president, and representatives of local unions whose members are employed in the plants.

A similar plan is in the process of being established for employes of generalware plants as a result of an agreement signed by the U. S. Potters Association and the IBOP.

Both will be financed by company contributions based on the number of hours worked by employes. The company contributions, which began last Dec. 1, will be increased gradually over the years.

The generalware pension committee has elected officers and selected an insurance company to act as carrier for the funds.

Thief Obtains Fishing Gear

A thief obtained $150 in fishing gear Thursday night after an East End woman unloaded it from her auto in a downtown alley and then drove away, forgetting it, police were told.

Mrs. Eileen Bailey, 1625 Holiday St., told officers she removed the three rods and three reels from the trunk of her auto in Diamond Alley to make room for other items. Then she drove away, forgetting to place the gear back in the trunk, she said. When she remembered her loss and returned to the alley, the gear was gone, she related.

Police also investigated a burglary at a St. Clair Ave. dairy store in which an intruder obtained only 10 cents.

The entry occurred at the Dairy Isle, 2804 St. Clair Ave., owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Yanni, officers said. Entry was gained sometime between 12:30 and 11 a.m. Thursday by forcing a rear door. The report was filed at 12:15 p.m.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith, who investigated, said the intruder first attempted to enter by removing the screen on a rear window. The burglar ransacked a filing system in the back room and then searched a drawer in the front section, he said. As far as could be learned, the only loss was a dime, he said.

Fannie Butler, 118½ E. 2nd St., told police an intruder who entered her home between 8:20 a.m. and 5:55 p.m. yesterday stole $5.

Officers will be installed at the next meeting May 28 at New Cumberland High School.

Health Board Reports Ill Dog Was Not Rabid

An ailing dog captured April 25 near the Henry Ave. standpipes was not rabid, the State Health Department reported Wednesday afternoon to Dog Warden Robert Croyle.

Although there was no serious suspicion of rabies, the animal was destroyed and its head was sent to the laboratory at Columbus for examination. At the time the dog was captured, police expressed the opinion it was suffering from an ordinary canine illness—probably distemper.

Patrolman Jerry Adkins captured the animal with a rope after householders reported it was wandering at large "with foam around its mouth." If the report had been positive, it would have been telephoned from Columbus immediately, Croyle pointed out.

Mother Can Help Child With Spelling

Thousands of kind mothers last evening or this morning, while doing housework, tried to help their children memorize the correct spelling of a list of words or memorize a group of number combinations or a list of words of a foreign language and their English equivalents. After one such child had studied a few items of the group once or more, his mother probably tried him out. He got some of them right; she corrected him on the wrong ones. He merely heard her correction but did not see its correct form. She kept trying him over and over, he repeating the same errors again and again. As they stuck to this procedure, he probably got it right more often than wrong. But see how much practice he had at repeating the errors!

Dr. Garry Meyers

SHE AND THE child felt that this method was helping him do the memorizing. All she was doing, really, was testing him and correcting orally the errors he made.

Even if she and the child supposed he knew by heart all items of the group this morning, he probably got some of them wrong when he was tested at school today. Under strain of the tests, some of those he had repeated incorrectly with her came out.

Kind as this mother was in trying to help the child, she was exercising him in a wasteful procedure.

Instead, she should have guided him in a way in which he made practically no errors and repeated only the correct spelling.

Suppose your child has a list of ten words to spell. Have him look at the first word and pronounce it. In case he knows what this word means, have him pronounce it aloud and spell it aloud while looking carefully at it. Have him pronounce and spell this same word while looking right at it another time, even five or six times, before looking away from it to try himself out.

HAVING MASTERED perfectly the spelling of this word, he should go on to the next word and proceed with it as he did with the first one. It might be better if each word appeared in clear print or script on a card and if the cards were shuffled from time to time so that he did not learn any word in a particular position or sequence.

He should so continue studying three, four or five words of the list before you pronounce these for him to spell. But practically every child will pronounce and spell the first word only once and then go to the next word, next and so on.

After thus repeating this whole performance a few times, he will want you to pronounce the whole list. Almost surely he will spell some or many of them wrong. You don't help him well by testing him too soon.

You help him by keeping him repeating the correct spelling of each word while looking right at it often enough to master it perfectly.

Make "Accuracy first and always," the slogan as you help a child learn to spell.

Boeing Co. Hurls Challenge At Pentagon On TFX Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the Boeing Co. has issued a challenge to the Pentagon: Let Boeing build four prototype TFX warplanes and test them against those of the General Dynamics Co., the winning bidder.

Such a test, Boeing President William M. Allen told the Senate Investigations subcommittee Thursday, "offers the best possibility to assure the American people that the best weapons systems are being bought at the least cost."

In fact, Allen said, he prefers a test to reversal of the Pentagon's decision and award of the contract to Boeing.

The industrialist issued the challenge while denying that Boeing's bid on the TFX was unrealistically low.

In defending the award to General Dynamics, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said he and other civilian chiefs felt Boeing's offer was unrealistically low.

Allen said Boeing's bid for development and production of the first 23 TFX planes for testing was $148 million below General Dynamics' and was based on careful calculations.

The TFX award—potentially a $6.2-billion job—envisions eventual production of 1,700 fighter-bombers, to be the fastest in the world. About 230 would be used by the Navy, the rest by the Air Force.

Lisbon Industry Given $25,607 Defense Job

LISBON — A defense supply contract valued at $25,607.25 has been awarded to the Ohio Hoist Manufacturing Co., by the Defense Construction Supply Center at Columbus. The firm will supply 599 chain hoists to the military services.

DCSC, in awarding the contract in accordance with regulations governing defense contract awards to Small Business or labor surplus areas, solicited 38 concerns of which six submitted bids. Production and inspection for quality and quantity will be at the contractor's plant at Lisbon.

The Defense Construction Supply Center, a major field activity of the Defense Supply Agency, Cameron Station, Va., is the "inventory manager" of repair parts for construction equipment and construction materials common to the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps.

The first law school in history was established in Bologna, Italy, in the 1200's.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The sternwheeler Delta Queen was scheduled to leave at 8 p.m. today with a full load of Kentucky Derby visitors bound for Louisville—the site of the Queen's own recent racing triumph over the Belle of Louisville.

A spokesman for Greene Lines, operators of the boat, said there would be no rematch between the two steamboats this weekend.

"Not this soon," the spokesman said. "Though I think there may be one eventually— they want to get those gilded antlers back."

A pair of gilded antlers was the prize in Tuesday's race.

The Delta Queen will cast off to be accompaniment of a jazz band and is expected to reach Louisville about 6 a.m. Saturday. She is due back in Cincinnati around 3 p.m. Sunday.

24 Children Injured As Bus Hits Bridge

BURDEN, Kan. (AP)—A school bus sideswiped a bridge Thursday and all the 24 pupils aboard were injured.

Eight youngsters and Delbert Hensley, 46, the bus driver, all of Burden, were hospitalized at Winfield, Kan.

A concrete guard post and the railing of the bridge peeled back the right side of the bus like the lid of a sardine can. Some of the children spilled down a rocky embankment.

April's Unemployment Picture Changed Little

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

JOBS: The unemployment picture changed little in April, despite record numbers of workers holding jobs.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics announced Thursday that the unemployment rate, seasonally adjusted, was 5.7 per cent, "not significantly changed from the 5.6 per cent rate registered both in March 1963 and April 1962."

In March the jobless rate made its greatest monthly improvement since November 1958—tumbling from the 6.1 per cent of February.

The April figures, while less spectacular, did show a larger than seasonally jump in employment—up 900,000 to 68.1 million. This was 1.3 million higher than April 1962.

EQUAL PAY: The House Education and Labor Committee Thursday approved, 24-3, a bill to ban wage discrimination between men and women.

The bill would be administered under the minimum wage law and would require equal pay for both sexes on jobs requiring "equal skill, effort and responsibility."

MINUTEMAN: The 100 Minuteman missiles in position in Montana each carries a nuclear punch twice as powerful as originally planned for them, the Air Force reports.

This is believed to give them a blast power equivalent to two million tons of TNT.

Boats Of The Desert

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — Elko is a long way from the bounding main, but an attempt is being made to establish an organized racing sailboat class for the area. The move is led by Dr. John M. Thief Obtains Fishing Gear

A thief obtained $150 in fishing gear Thursday night after an East End woman unloaded it from her auto in a downtown alley and then drove away, forgetting it, police were told.

Mrs. Eileen Bailey, 1625 Holliday St., told officers she removed the three rods and three reels from the trunk of her auto in Diamond Alley to make room for other items. Then she drove away, forgetting to place the gear back in the trunk, she said. When she remembered her loss and returned to the alley, the gear was gone, she related.

Police also investigated a burglary at a St. Clair Ave. dairy store in which an intruder obtained only 10 cents.

The entry occurred at the Dairy Isle, 2804 St. Clair Ave., owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Yanni, officers said. Entry was gained sometime between 12:30 and 11 a.m. Thursday by forcing a rear door. The report was filed at 12:15 p.m.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith, who investigated, said the intruder first attempted to enter by removing the screen on a rear window. The burglar ransacked a filing system in the back room and then searched a drawer in the front section, he said. As far as could be learned, the only loss was a dime, he said.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

(By CHUCK CRONIN, substituting for Bob Duffy who is on vacation)

Baldwin Chooses Dixie School . . .

The College of William & Mary has landed another district basketball star, big Steve Baldwin of Wellsville High.

The Tiger pivot flew to the Williamsburg (Va.) campus last weekend and returned with a four-year scholarship. "It's really beautiful down there," Baldwin says.

Two ex-Salem cagers, Dave Hunter and Bob Eskay, are also on the W. & M. basketball squad.

An athletic scholarship appeared questionable for the 6-foot, 6-inch Wellsville senior last summer. He was immobilized for weeks during vacation after surgery in Pittsburgh to correct a painful condition of the feet.

Determined to recover and continue in his favorite sport, Steve worked hard to get back in shape and used whirlpool baths to help speed his recovery.

Although his size 11 feet ached most of the campaign, Baldwin emerged as the team's top scorer for the second straight year and was highly effective under the boards most of the way.

Coach Bill Chambers of W. & M. said "we'll be glad to have Steve. He will be a fine asset to our basketball program." Chambers and scouts from several other colleges apparently have plenty of confidence that Steve's foot troubles are over. He had other offers from Richmond, Youngstown and Canisius.

Elsewhere, Bob King, 6-5 pivot of Salem has signed a grant-in-aid with Richmond where ex-Quaker Ted Thorne is also enrolled. Beaver Local's John Detcheon, who excelled in football and track under Coach Jack O'Rourke, will probably enter Youngstown U.

Potter Staff At Clinic . . .

Potter chief Bob Hedmond and three assistants left today for a coaching clinic at West Virginia University.

Hedmond and veteran assistant Rey Peduzzi were at Dayton U. last week observing the Flyers' spring football practice.

Hedmond spoke highly of the visit, pointing out Flyer Coach Pete Ankney and his aides went out of their way to answer questions regarding scholastic football.

Ankney, ex-Canton McKinley mentor, has a staff of former high school coaches at Dayton. Hedmond and Peduzzi were the only visitors, and were given ample time to be heard during discussions on strategy. Other members of the Blue and White staff have heard coaches from Northwestern, Kentucky and Pitt give tips and insight into the technical aspects of the game.

Accompanying Hedmond to WVU are Norm Six, Jim Potts and Larry Foltz. Hedmond reports Potter guard Scott Musuraca, a senior, has been named first alternate guard for the Ohio North-South All-Star fray in Canton this summer.

Restless Spring For District . . .

The spring turnover in district coaching circles is expected to continue, with an announcement due in a few days from one of the area schools. Meanwhile, United is screening applications for both football and basketball jobs, Leetonia is after a football coach to succeed Ike Farrah, and Alliance's cage coach Ron Peeling has resigned.

Note To Allen Fans . . .

Note to the younger set following the career of Bernie Allen: A picture and brief biography of the Minnesota Twins' infielder from East Liverpool appears on a Cornflakes package sold in local stores. Other major leaguers are also featured.

Potters Drop Tourney Tilt To Central

Limited to a pair of base hits at the start, East Liverpool High's Potters were eliminated from the Sectional AA baseball tournament Thursday at Steubenville as Steubenville Central gained an 8-1 victory.

Central advanced to the finals today against city rival Big Red behind the pitching of Dan Abramowicz.

Coach Jack Bair's Potters plated their only tally in the first inning when infielder Dave Bowersock led off with a single, and left fielder Tom Kraft followed with a triple.

Central came back with a run in the second to tie, added five more in the third, and single tallies in the fifth and sixth innings.

The Crusaders supported Abramowicz's two-hit pitching with an eight-hit attack.

The Potters were hurt by errors, in particular throwing errors. They committed six in all. Roger Linville started on the mound for the locals, and was relieved in the third by Burns. Locke hurled the final two innings, and Burns was tagged with the loss.

The Potters host Toronto this afternoon at 4:15 at Patterson Field.

Candy Spots 6-5 Choice To Win Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—This year's Kentucky Derby, which attracted eight bluebloods of racing and a colt that will really have to move just to stay in sight of the field, is made for a Silky Sullivan that can run.

For those who don't remember, Silky Sullivan was the California colt that gained some fame for his come from behind victories. In 1958 Silky mistook the Derby for his afternoon stroll and finished 12th in a 14-horse field.

Most trainers in this year's race concede that Greentree Stable's unbeaten No Robbery has so much early speed that any colt trying to run with him may find the pace killing.

Horses in the race that figure to stay close to the pace, and possibly No Robbery, in the early going, are Darby Dan Farm's Chateaugay, Walnut Hill Farm's Gray Pet and Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend.

Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, the 6-5 favorite to win the 89th running of the 1-mile event Saturday, can either run or stay off the pace. He'll probably stay well off it until they hit the stretch.

This leaves Ambush Stable's On My Honor, who came from 24 lengths off the pace to win the California Derby, B. J. Ridder's Royal Tower and Patrice Jacobs' Bonjour.

J. J. Cherock's Investor, who figures to go postward at odds better than 100-1, usually runs off the pace—well off it. He finished next to last in Tuesday's Derby Trial Stakes.

The Derby will be worth $151,400 if all nine go postward, with $108,900 going to the winner.

The field of nine this year is the smallest since 1957, when the same number started.

The Weather Bureau predicts it will be cloudy but pleasant, with temperatures ranging in the 70s and 80s.

The race will be televised (CBS) from 4-5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time and broadcast (CBS) from 4:15-4:45.

Stan The Man Rings Up Another Record

Double Wins For Cards; Bucs Beaten

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stan Musial uncoiled from his familiar left-handed stance in the seventh inning Thursday night and lashed a three-run double that gave National League leading St. Louis a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs and added yet another record to Stan The Man's collection.

It was the 1,356th extra-base hit of Musial's career, tying the major league record held by Babe Ruth. The 42-year-old Cardinal has legged out 3,555 hits a distance of 102½ miles and set or tied 42 NL records and 15 major league marks.

Musial's lifetime chart now shows 2,199 singles, 717 doubles, 175 triples and 464 homers. Double No. 717 came at an opportune time, giving the Cardinals a 4-0 bulge they needed to hold off the rallying Cubs.

The victory kept the Cardinals two games ahead of Pittsburgh and San Francisco. The third-place Giants edged the second-place Pirates 2-1 on Juan Marichal's five-hit pitching and Felipe Alou's two-run homer.

Ron Fairly's two-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia. Hank Aaron hit his eighth homer and Bob Hendley allowed only three hits as Milwaukee blanked Cincinnati 8-0 and the New York Mets belted Houston 10-3.

Marichal, who struck out seven and walked only one allowed the lone Pirate run in the sixth.

Fairly's fourth homer tagged Art Mahaffey with the defeat. Ron Perranoski now 3-1, picked up the victory in relief.

Hendley, bringing his record to 3-1, gave up all three Reds' hits to Leo Cardenas. The Braves pounded out 12 hits to hand Joey Jay his fifth defeat.

Charlie Neal stroked four straight singles as the Mets scored in double figures for the first time this season. Larry Burright drove in three runs for New York in support of winner Al Jackson. Don Nottebart took the loss for the Colts.

East Liverpool's track squad won all but three of 14 events to trounce Beaver Local, 81-37, in a dual meet Thursday at Beaver Local.

Ford Blanks Angels, 7-0

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Whitey Ford, 34, playing his 12th season with the Yankees and so sore-armed in the spring that he was relegated to the B-team, showed Thursday that he is far from being a candidate for the Old Pitchers Home—if there is such a place.

He shut out the Angels at Los Angeles 7-0, giving up only four hits, all singles; striking out 10 and walking one. Counting the seven innings he worked against Cleveland April 28 before being yanked by Manager Ralph Houk for a rest, he extended his streak of scoreless innings to 16.

The victory, helped along by Joe Pepitone's first grand slam home run in the majors, put the world champions within reach of first place in the American League—a spot that has been reserved for them for next September.

They are just a game behind the Boston Red Sox, who are leading the league by percentage although by a mathematical quirk the Kansas City Athletics are one-half game ahead.

The Athletics, in all their green and gold glory, lost their No. 1 position when beaten by the Cleveland Indians 15-6, mainly on a grand slam home run by Woody Held. The Red Sox, at Minnesota, were rained out.

In other games, the Washington Senators hammered out a 9-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers, Larry Osborne leading the attack with two home runs, and the Baltimore Orioles downed the Chicago White Sox 8-7 on a bases loaded single in the ninth inning by Brooks Robinson that scored three runs.

At Kansas City, besides Held's grand slammer, homers were hit by the A's rookie catcher, Bill Bryan, and Cleveland's Vic Davalillo. Barry Latman, who entered the game in the third and gave up only two hits the rest of the way, was the winning pitcher.

Jim King added a home run to the two-Osborne hit for Washington at Detroit. The Senators collected 13 hits in winning two games in a row for the first time this season.

Robinson's game-deciding blow at Chicago came with two out. Chicago's Jim Landis hit his third home run of the season and Jim Gentile and Bob Johnson both hit for the circuit for the Orioles.

Indians Trade Jim Perry For Twins' Kralick

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians may be ready to make another trade soon, now that the ice has been broken in a deal in which southpaw Jack Kralick comes to the Tribe from Minnesota in exchange for Jim Perry.

With the cutdown date coming up in a week, the Indians must drop their roster from 28 to 25 players. Still needed is a slugging outfielder, who may be able to be obtained in a package deal.

Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul announced the Kralick-Perry trade Thursday. The Indians had been seeking Kralick, a Youngstown native who will be 28 next month. The Twins wanted either Gary Bell or Barry Latman.

Kralick, a frail left-hander who carries 175 pounds on his 6-foot-1 frame, pitched a no-hitter last season. He had a 12-11 record in 1962 and has a 34-32 lifetime mark, including only one triumph in five decisions this season.

Perry, 26, seemed headed for stardom in 1960 when he was the Indians' "man of the year" after compiling an 18-10 mark, but he won 22 and lost 29 in the past two seasons. So far this season, he has appeared in five games, all in relief, and had no won - lost record but has a 5.23 earned run average.

Baldwin Chooses Dixie School . . .

The College of William & Mary has landed another district basketball star, big Steve Baldwin of Wellsville High.

The Tiger pivot flew to the Williamsburg (Va.) campus last weekend and returned with a four-year scholarship. "It's really beautiful down there," Baldwin says.

Two ex-Salem cagers, Dave Hunter and Bob Eskay, are also on the W. & M. basketball squad.

An athletic scholarship appeared questionable for the 6-foot, 6-inch Wellsville senior last summer. He was immobilized for weeks during vacation after surgery in Pittsburgh to correct a painful condition of the feet.

Determined to recover and continue in his favorite sport, Steve worked hard to get back in shape and used whirlpool baths to help speed his recovery.

Although his size 11 feet ached most of the campaign, Baldwin emerged as the team's top scorer for the second straight year and was highly effective under the boards most of the way.

Coach Bill Chambers of W. & M. said "we'll be glad to have Steve. He will be a fine asset to our basketball program." Chambers and scouts from several other colleges apparently have plenty of confidence that Steve's foot troubles are over. He had other offers from Richmond, Youngstown and Canisius.

Elsewhere, Bob King, 6-5 pivot of Salem has signed a grant-in-aid with Richmond where ex-Quaker Ted Thorne is also enrolled. Beaver Local's John Detcheon, who excelled in football and track under Coach Jack O'Rourke, will probably enter Youngstown U.

Potter Staff At Clinic . . .

Potter chief Bob Hedmond and three assistants left today for a coaching clinic at West Virginia University.

Hedmond and veteran assistant Rey Peduzzi were at Dayton U. last week observing the Flyers' spring football practice.

Hedmond spoke highly of the visit, pointing out Flyer Coach Pete Ankney and his aides went out of their way to answer questions regarding scholastic football.

Ankney, ex-Canton McKinley mentor, has a staff of former high school coaches at Dayton. Hedmond and Peduzzi were the only visitors, and were given ample time to be heard during discussions on strategy. Other members of the Blue and White staff have heard coaches from Northwestern, Kentucky and Pitt give tips and insight into the technical aspects of the game.

Accompanying Hedmond to WVU are Norm Six, Jim Potts and Larry Foltz. Hedmond reports Potter guard Scott Musuraca, a senior, has been named first alternate guard for the Ohio North-South All-Star fray in Canton this summer.

Restless Spring For District . . .

The spring turnover in district coaching circles is expected to continue, with an announcement due in a few days from one of the area schools. Meanwhile, United is screening applications for both football and basketball jobs, Leetonia is after a football coach to succeed Ike Farrah, and Alliance's cage coach Ron Peeling has resigned.

He shut out the Angels at Los Angeles 7-0, giving up only four hits, all singles; striking out 10 and walking one. Counting the seven innings he worked against Cleveland April 28 before being yanked by Manager Ralph Houk for a rest, he extended his streak of scoreless innings to 16.

The victory, helped along by Joe Pepitone's first grand slam home run in the majors, put the world champions within reach of first place in the American League—a spot that has been reserved for them for next September.

They are just a game behind the Boston Red Sox, who are leading the league by percentage although by a mathematical quirk the Kansas City Athletics are one-half game ahead.

The Athletics, in all their green and gold glory, lost their No. 1 position when beaten by the Cleveland Indians 15-6, mainly on a grand slam home run by Woody Held. The Red Sox, at Minnesota, were rained out.

In other games, the Washington Senators hammered out a 9-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers, Larry Osborne leading the attack with two home runs, and the Baltimore Orioles downed the Chicago White Sox 8-7 on a bases loaded single in the ninth inning by Brooks Robinson that scored three runs.

At Kansas City, besides Held's grand slammer, homers were hit by the A's rookie catcher, Bill Bryan, and Cleveland's Vic Davalillo. Barry Latman, who entered the game in the third and gave up only two hits the rest of the way, was the winning pitcher.

Jim King added a home run to the two-Osborne hit for Washington at Detroit. The Senators collected 13 hits in winning two games in a row for the first time this season.

Robinson's game-deciding blow at Chicago came with two out. Chicago's Jim Landis hit his third home run of the season and Jim Gentile and Bob Johnson both hit for the circuit for the Orioles.

Indians Trade Jim Perry For Twins' Kralick

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians may be ready to make another trade soon, now that the ice has been broken in a deal in which southpaw Jack Kralick comes to the Tribe from Minnesota in exchange for Jim Perry.

With the cutdown date coming up in a week, the Indians must drop their roster from 28 to 25 players. Still needed is a slugging outfielder, who may be able to be obtained in a package deal.

Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul announced the Kralick-Perry trade Thursday. The Indians had been seeking Kralick, a Youngstown native who will be 28 next month. The Twins wanted either Gary Bell or Barry Latman.

Kralick, a frail left-hander who carries 175 pounds on his 6-foot-1 frame, pitched a no-hitter last season. He had a 12-11 record in 1962 and has a 34-32 lifetime mark, including only one triumph in five decisions this season.

Perry, 26, seemed headed for stardom in 1960 when he was the Indians' "man of the year" after compiling an 18-10 mark, but he won 22 and lost 29 in the past two seasons. So far this season, he has appeared in five games, all in relief, and had no won - lost record but has a 5.23 earned run average.

Potters Drop Tourney Tilt To Central

Limited to a pair of base hits at the start, East Liverpool High's Potters were eliminated from the Sectional AA baseball tournament Thursday at Steubenville as Steubenville Central gained an 8-1 victory.

Central advanced to the finals today against city rival Big Red behind the pitching of Dan Abramowicz.

Coach Jack Bair's Potters plated their only tally in the first inning when infielder Dave Bowersock led off with a single, and left fielder Tom Kraft followed with a triple.

Central came back with a run in the second to tie, added five more in the third, and single tallies in the fifth and sixth innings.

The Crusaders supported Abramowicz's two-hit pitching with an eight-hit attack.

The Potters were hurt by errors, in particular throwing errors. They committed six in all. Roger Linville started on the mound for the locals, and was relieved in the third by Burns. Locke hurled the final two innings, and Burns was tagged with the loss.

The Potters host Toronto this afternoon at 4:15 at Patterson Field.

U.S. Sets Gold Metal Goal In Pan-Am At 100

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—The United States set its gold medal goal at 100-plus today as it prepared for the climactic showdown in the fourth Pan-American Games.

Uncle Sam's athletes, with 89 championships already in the bag, hoped to pick up five or six more golds in track and field, two in basketball, two in boxing, another in synchronized swimming.

The men's basketball team, which crushed Mexico 96-54 for its fifth straight victory Thursday night, goes into a showdown with Brazil, also unbeaten in five games, in the title game tonight. In women's basketball it's the United States 5-0 against Brazil 4-1, also for the championship tonight.

The Yanks' boxing hopes rest with a pair of big boys, the only two U.S. survivors of the tournament.

This figures to be a good day for Uncle Sam in track and field.

Olympic champ Ralph Boston of Laurel, Miss., is cranked up for a superlative broad jump with a good chance of beating the Pan-Am record of 26 feet, 4⅛ inches set by Roselyn Range of the U.S. at Mexico City in 1955.

Hammer throw champion Albert Hall, the poultry specialist from Greenfield, Mass., should top his 1959 mark of 190 feet, 11 inches. Favored in the 110-meter hurdles is Blaine Lindgren, the deputy sheriff from Salt Lake City.

Ohio Keglers Win Prizes In ABC Classic

An early look at the results from ABC headquarters here shows Buckeye bowlers finishing among the top 100 in the various divisions will receive $19,718.

Teams scoring 2797, doubles of 1113, singles of 566 and all-events of 1748 landed in the overall prize list — and the preliminary prize list, showing almost $20,000 for the Ohioans—carried down to only 2955 in the five-man, 1245 in the doubles, 666 in the singles and 1868 in the all-events.

Complete figures could show Ohioans winning thousands more.

The New London Recreation team won the booster championship with a record score of 2918, erasing the 2883 record which had stood since 1936.

Three high school boys, Bob Cooke, Dave Stewart and Ron Knapp, plus 20-year-old left-hander Larry Merrill and 20-year-old Roy Johnson put together the big count worth $250, silver belt buckles and a huge trophy. Three were in their first ABC tournament, but they defeated 1,629 other teams.

Ed Thomas of Logan picked up $600 and a diamond ring for his third-place finish in the classic division singles with 720 and $200 more for 14th in the all-events with 1943.

John Vargo and James Nucciarone of Painesville won $900 and wrist watches for their 1334 doubles total, just three pins behind the new champions, and Andy Hudoba of Youngstown snared $450 and a ring for finishing third in the singles with 725.

One of the big victors was Jim Schroeder of Toledo, who tied for second in the all-events with 1957 for an $862 payoff and a gold watch. He also will be one of the first bowlers ever to represent the United States in international competition. Nine top-flighters from the ABC will participate for the first time in the fifth annual Federation Internationale Des Quilleurs tournament in Mexico City next Nov. 3-10, and Schroeder grabbed one of the berths.

Ohio Campaign For Goldwater Being Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Groundwork is being laid for an Ohio presidential campaign for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R - Ariz.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown Thursday granted a request to reserve the names "Central Ohioans for Goldwater" and "Ohioans for Goldwater" for the senator's supporters.

William F. Smith, an employe of the State Highway Department, reserved the names at the request of a group formed here in cooperation with a national Godwater-for - President organization, he said.

Smith's wife, Edna, is secretary of the local group which is meeting today at the Columbus Athletic Club. Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, is scheduled to speak at the meeting.

Wheat Farmers Seek To Bar Referendum

CHICAGO (AP) — Two small Ohio wheat farmers have joined several others in asking a Washington court to bar the nationwide May 21 referendum on the administration's wheat plan.

Attorneys for the farmers, Winthrop B. French of Wakeman and Richard J. Jooker of New London, are challenging the constitutionality of the referendum.

They claim the requirement that small farmers file advance written notice that they will comply with the wheat control program discriminates unfairly against them.

Leopards Top Rams By 6-3

The Midland Leopards erupted for four runs in the second inning and went on to defeat the South Side Rams, 6-3, in a Section 4 contest played at South Side Thursday afternoon.

Paul Farnan's Leopard nine is now even in six section starts. Don Chewning's Ram crew absorbed its fourth loss against three section victories.

Southpaw Bill McGeehan went the distance for the Leopards on the mound. He gave up three hits and struck out four Ram batters. In the final five innings McGeehan ran into a streak of wildness, walking eight batters.

Paul Verzella started on the hill for South Side. He was charged with the loss, giving up four runs and five hits in two innings.

John Mackall relieved Verzella in the third and hurled two frames before giving way to Dave Trimble, who pitched the last three innings.

Mackall was touched for two runs and two hits. Trimble held the Leopards hitless and scoreless in his tour of duty on the hill. He whiffed four batters and walked only one.

Jim Miller, Midland second sacker, delivered the big blow of the game in the second inning. He hit a two-out, bases loaded triple that sent the first three Midland runs across the plate.

The other Midland tallies came in the fourth inning when Sam Zigerelli laced a double into the left-centerfield gap with runners on first and second.

Today Midland travels to Monaca to take on Center. South Side will battle the league-leading Rochester Rams at Beaver.

Findlay Star Equals 100-Yard Dash Mark

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP) — Odell Barry, fleet cinder star for Findlay, Ohio, College, equalled the world's record in the 100-yard dash in a dual track meet with Hillsdale Thursday, but it won't be counted.

Findlay Coach Jim Houdeshell said Barry's feat would not be certified by the National Collegiate Athletic Association because of the absence of a wind meter.

His time of 9.2 seconds equalled the mark set by Villanova's Frank Budd on June 24, 1961. Track officials here estimated there was a 10 mile an hour wind at Barry's back, more than twice that allowed by the NCAA for official records.

Barry also won the 220-yard dash in 20.5. Despite the Toledo youth's performance, Hillsdale won the meet 70-60.

Little League Slates Work At 2 Diamonds

Little League officials met Thursday night and scheduled two "work parties" for Saturday.

Parents and others aiding in youngsters' baseball programs are to assemble Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Little League field in LaCroft, and at Farrell Field used by the Minor League. Workers are to bring shovels, picks and other tools. Hap Tullis is loop president.

The National League has two switch - hitting shortstops. They are Maury Wills of the Dodgers and Dick Schofield of the Pirates.

Nicklaus Leads Palmer By Two At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, who specialize in destroying par scoring in golf, threatened today to make a two-man show of the $60,000 Tournament of Champions.

Nicklaus, who has divested Palmer of such valuable crowns as the National Open and the Masters, led the way into the second round with a lead of two strokes over Palmer after shooting a record 8-under-par 64 Thursday.

The 23-year-old Nicklaus might even duplicate the wire-to-wire win by Arnold in this same event last year — and incidentally, remove still another gem from Arnie's crown.

Palmer had a first round 34-32—66 for the par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club and at the moment it appeared good enough to lead the round.

Nicklaus soon after deflated this thought when he holed a 40-foot putt for an eagle 3 on the 15th.

There are 25 other professionals competing here, but as South Africa's Gary Player observed in noting Nicklaus' terrific round: "He is so powerful and so straight there is no telling how good this man will be."

Three shots off the pace was Bill Collins, who displayed no evidence of a back ailment which has hampered him all year. The 34-year-old pro from Miami, Fla., shot 34-33—67.

Tied at 70 were Bill Casper, Jr., Bo Wininger, Johnny Pott and Doug Sanders, and rounding out those who broke par with 71s were Doug Ford, Jacky Cupit, Lionel Hebert, Gardner Dickinson and Jerry Barber.

U.S. Sets Gold Metal Goal In Pan-Am At 100

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—The United States set its gold medal goal at 100-plus today as it prepared for the climactic showdown in the fourth Pan-American Games.

Uncle Sam's athletes, with 89 championships already in the bag, hoped to pick up five or six more golds in track and field, two in basketball, two in boxing, another in synchronized swimming.

The men's basketball team, which crushed Mexico 96-54 for its fifth straight victory Thursday night, goes into a showdown with Brazil, also unbeaten in five games, in the title game tonight. In women's basketball it's the United States 5-0 against Brazil 4-1, also for the championship tonight.

The Yanks' boxing hopes rest with a pair of big boys, the only two U.S. survivors of the tournament.

This figures to be a good day for Uncle Sam in track and field.

Olympic champ Ralph Boston of Laurel, Miss., is cranked up for a superlative broad jump with a good chance of beating the Pan-Am record of 26 feet, 4⅛ inches set by Roselyn Range of the U.S. at Mexico City in 1955.

Hammer throw champion Albert Hall, the poultry specialist from Greenfield, Mass., should top his 1959 mark of 190 feet, 11 inches. Favored in the 110-meter hurdles is Blaine Lindgren, the deputy sheriff from Salt Lake City.

Ohio Keglers Win Prizes In ABC Classic

An early look at the results from ABC headquarters here shows Buckeye bowlers finishing among the top 100 in the various divisions will receive $19,718.

Teams scoring 2797, doubles of 1113, singles of 566 and all-events of 1748 landed in the overall prize list — and the preliminary prize list, showing almost $20,000 for the Ohioans—carried down to only 2955 in the five-man, 1245 in the doubles, 666 in the singles and 1868 in the all-events.

Complete figures could show Ohioans winning thousands more.

The New London Recreation team won the booster championship with a record score of 2918, erasing the 2883 record which had stood since 1936.

Three high school boys, Bob Cooke, Dave Stewart and Ron Knapp, plus 20-year-old left-hander Larry Merrill and 20-year-old Roy Johnson put together the big count worth $250, silver belt buckles and a huge trophy. Three were in their first ABC tournament, but they defeated 1,629 other teams.

Ed Thomas of Logan picked up $600 and a diamond ring for his third-place finish in the classic division singles with 720 and $200 more for 14th in the all-events with 1943.

John Vargo and James Nucciarone of Painesville won $900 and wrist watches for their 1334 doubles total, just three pins behind the new champions, and Andy Hudoba of Youngstown snared $450 and a ring for finishing third in the singles with 725.

One of the big victors was Jim Schroeder of Toledo, who tied for second in the all-events with 1957 for an $862 payoff and a gold watch. He also will be one of the first bowlers ever to represent the United States in international competition. Nine top-flighters from the ABC will participate for the first time in the fifth annual Federation Internationale Des Quilleurs tournament in Mexico City next Nov. 3-10, and Schroeder grabbed one of the berths.

Ohio Campaign For Goldwater Being Planned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Groundwork is being laid for an Ohio presidential campaign for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R - Ariz.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown Thursday granted a request to reserve the names "Central Ohioans for Goldwater" and "Ohioans for Goldwater" for the senator's supporters.

William F. Smith, an employe of the State Highway Department, reserved the names at the request of a group formed here in cooperation with a national Godwater-for - President organization, he said.

Smith's wife, Edna, is secretary of the local group which is meeting today at the Columbus Athletic Club. Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, is scheduled to speak at the meeting.

Wheat Farmers Seek To Bar Referendum

CHICAGO (AP) — Two small Ohio wheat farmers have joined several others in asking a Washington court to bar the nationwide May 21 referendum on the administration's wheat plan.

Attorneys for the farmers, Winthrop B. French of Wakeman and Richard J. Jooker of New London, are challenging the constitutionality of the referendum.

They claim the requirement that small farmers file advance written notice that they will comply with the wheat control program discriminates unfairly against them.

Leopards Top Rams By 6-3

The Midland Leopards erupted for four runs in the second inning and went on to defeat the South Side Rams, 6-3, in a Section 4 contest played at South Side Thursday afternoon.

Paul Farnan's Leopard nine is now even in six section starts. Don Chewning's Ram crew absorbed its fourth loss against three section victories.

Southpaw Bill McGeehan went the distance for the Leopards on the mound. He gave up three hits and struck out four Ram batters. In the final five innings McGeehan ran into a streak of wildness, walking eight batters.

Paul Verzella started on the hill for South Side. He was charged with the loss, giving up four runs and five hits in two innings.

John Mackall relieved Verzella in the third and hurled two frames before giving way to Dave Trimble, who pitched the last three innings.

Mackall was touched for two runs and two hits. Trimble held the Leopards hitless and scoreless in his tour of duty on the hill. He whiffed four batters and walked only one.

Jim Miller, Midland second sacker, delivered the big blow of the game in the second inning. He hit a two-out, bases loaded triple that sent the first three Midland runs across the plate.

The other Midland tallies came in the fourth inning when Sam Zigerelli laced a double into the left-centerfield gap with runners on first and second.

Today Midland travels to Monaca to take on Center. South Side will battle the league-leading Rochester Rams at Beaver.

Findlay Star Equals 100-Yard Dash Mark

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP) — Odell Barry, fleet cinder star for Findlay, Ohio, College, equalled the world's record in the 100-yard dash in a dual track meet with Hillsdale Thursday, but it won't be counted.

Findlay Coach Jim Houdeshell said Barry's feat would not be certified by the National Collegiate Athletic Association because of the absence of a wind meter.

His time of 9.2 seconds equalled the mark set by Villanova's Frank Budd on June 24, 1961. Track officials here estimated there was a 10 mile an hour wind at Barry's back, more than twice that allowed by the NCAA for official records.

Barry also won the 220-yard dash in 20.5. Despite the Toledo youth's performance, Hillsdale won the meet 70-60.

Little League Slates Work At 2 Diamonds

Little League officials met Thursday night and scheduled two "work parties" for Saturday.

Parents and others aiding in youngsters' baseball programs are to assemble Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Little League field in LaCroft, and at Farrell Field used by the Minor League. Workers are to bring shovels, picks and other tools. Hap Tullis is loop president.

The National League has two switch - hitting shortstops. They are Maury Wills of the Dodgers and Dick Schofield of the Pirates.

Nicklaus Leads Palmer By Two At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, who specialize in destroying par scoring in golf, threatened today to make a two-man show of the $60,000 Tournament of Champions.

Nicklaus, who has divested Palmer of such valuable crowns as the National Open and the Masters, led the way into the second round with a lead of two strokes over Palmer after shooting a record 8-under-par 64 Thursday.

The 23-year-old Nicklaus might even duplicate the wire-to-wire win by Arnold in this same event last year — and incidentally, remove still another gem from Arnie's crown.

Palmer had a first round 34-32—66 for the par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club and at the moment it appeared good enough to lead the round.

Nicklaus soon after deflated this thought when he holed a 40-foot putt for an eagle 3 on the 15th.

There are 25 other professionals competing here, but as South Africa's Gary Player observed in noting Nicklaus' terrific round: "He is so powerful and so straight there is no telling how good this man will be."

Three shots off the pace was Bill Collins, who displayed no evidence of a back ailment which has hampered him all year. The 34-year-old pro from Miami, Fla., shot 34-33—67.

Tied at 70 were Bill Casper, Jr., Bo Wininger, Johnny Pott and Doug Sanders, and rounding out those who broke par with 71s were Doug Ford, Jacky Cupit, Lionel Hebert, Gardner Dickinson and Jerry Barber.

Porterhouse, one of America's best trotters, came by his name naturally. His dam is Filet Mignon.

Demonstration To Urge Defeat Of Jobless Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Representatives of organized labor are scheduled to demonstrate at the State Capitol May 15 to urge defeat of unemployment and workmen's compensation bills currently before the General Assembly.

Elmer F. Cope, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO, said unions through Ohio have been urged to send delegations to demonstrate in opposition to the employer-backed bills.

He said the purpose of the demonstration is to "express the concern of the trade union movement over the threat to Ohio's unemployment and workmen's compensation systems."

The unemployment compensation bill, which has received House passage and is now under Senate consideration, would cut compensation $26 million a year to the unemployed, Cope asserted.

He claims that the workmen's compensation bill, which has passed the Senate, "contains many harsh features which would cut compensation to the worker injured on the job."

Junior Editors Quiz on PTOLEMY

QUESTION: Was Ptolemy a king, a geographer, or both?

ANSWER: It depends upon what Ptolemy you are speaking about. There was a long line of Ptolemys who were kings in ancient Egypt; Cleopatra belonged to this family. But the Ptolemy we generally connect with the name was the Greek geographer and astronomer Claudius Ptolemy, who lived about 150 A.D.

He studied earth, stars and the universe, and put his knowledge together in a famous 13-volume book which became known as the Almagest, a word meaning the greatest—or as we would say today, the most. In the map to the right, we show what the people of ancient Greece knew about the world. As you can see, a great deal of it was still unexplored.

Most people thought the earth was flat. Ptolemy guessed the truth, that it was round, but Ptolemy made a big error in his calculations. He thought the earth was much smaller than it really is. Because of this, it seems to him that the eastern countries with their fabulous riches lay only a short distance to the west of the known world. It was this belief which encouraged Columbus to sail west. If he had known the truth, he might not have had the courage to sail west and discover the new world.

FOR YOU TO DO: One of the reasons people hesitated to sail far out to sea was because it was thought there were many horrible sea monsters. Draw your idea of a sea monster; make him one which would have scared anybody but a Columbus.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have no problems but I wonder if you would answer some questions about your column which have been on my mind for a long time. I'll bet others have wondered about these things, too.

Do you ever keep a letter out of the paper if a person asks you not to print it? Someone told me that every letter you get belongs to you and you can print it if you want to.

Do you ever change the names in the letters or the signatures to conceal the identity of people if the problems are intimate? Or do you assume the writer already has changed the names to protect himself?

Thank you very much.—NOT NOSEY, JUST INQUISITIVE.

Dear Not Nosey: I have the right to print all letters addressed to me. I do not, however, print letters if I am asked not to.

Yes, sometimes I change the signatures to protect the writers. But this can backfire, as it did recently. A woman who wrote about a sister-in-law problem signed herself Sad Sally. To conceal her identity I changed the signature to Sad Mary. She wrote me the day her letter appeared in print and was furious because I had changed the name from Sally to Mary. Mary was her real name!!!

Apartment Etiquette

Dear Ann: My sister and I lived in the family home until this spring when my sister was married. I didn't want to remain there alone so I found a suitable apartment.

I know nothing about apartment etiquette for unmarried women. Please answer these questions:

When a single woman, age 40, lives alone in an apartment, does her gentleman friend escort her to her own door, or do they say good night downstairs? A doorman is on duty but only at certain hours.

Also, at what hour is it considered too late or improper to invite a man in after a date? This is a respectable building and I don't want to do anything that might give my neighbors the wrong impression of me. —ELINOR.

Dear Elinor: A 40-year-old woman does not need a curfew or supervision. Common sense should be your guide. Any time before midnight is a reasonable hour to invite guests in—whether there is a doorman or not.

And if you want a good night kiss, you'd better permit your friend to escort you to your door. With a doorman looking on the most you can expect is a pleasant handshake.

Luck Of The Irish

Dear Ann: There is big trouble at our house and I hope you can straighten it out.

The other day my father ran into a friend who served with him in World War II. He invited the man home to dinner and didn't give my mother any notice. The two of them just walked in.

My mom was wearing an old house dress, her hair was in rollers, the house was messy and we had hot dogs for dinner. Mom yelled at dad right in front of the guest and it was embarrassing. After the guest left mom and dad got into a terrible argument and they haven't spoken to each other since.

Who is right and who is wrong? My dad says a man should have the right to bring company home if he wants to. Mom says a husband always should give notice. Please referee. — IRISH TEMPERS.

Dear Tempers: Your dad is off base a country mile. No husband should bring a guest home to dinner and holler, 'Surprise.'

Your mother, however, should not have blown her top in the presence of the guest. She should have saved the blastoff for the time she and dad were alone.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Medal Of Honor Winners

War Heroes Get Kennedy Handshake At Lawn Fete

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the heroes gathered with the President, the memories came back—of scars and battles, of the friends they saved and the friends they lost.

"It's one of those things you don't talk about," a winner of the Medal of Honor said as he used a cane to get across the White House lawn on one leg. He lost the other in the punitive expedition to Mexico 49 years ago.

They shook hands with President Kennedy, a few in wheelchairs, one with a steel hand Kennedy reached for heartily like all the rest.

Wives had to tell the heroic tales for some. Others could rattle off their citations like serial numbers.

These were America's great heroes—234 of the 290 living winners of the Medal of Honor invited to a lawn party at the White House and a handshake from the President at a traditional reception for 1,600 military men and their wives.

They won their medals in the Spanish-American War, the fighting at Vera Cruz, Mexico, the Philippine Insurrection, Boxer Rebellion, two world wars and a "police action" in Korea.

Kennedy, a PT boat hero of World War II himself, paid honor to all of them in a moving ceremony in the Rose Garden outside his office and ventured it was the largest number of Medal of Honor winners ever assembled.

These men, recipients of the highest award the United States can give for military valor, are "our most distinguished American citizens," the President told his guests.

Expressing the country's appreciation, Kennedy said "you represent the strong courage of Americans and their determination to defend their country."

"While all Americans can't win the Medal of Honor, and while all of them can't fight in far-off places, I hope that all are big enough and strong enough and courageous enough to support them," the President added.

The Marine Band played the stirring tunes of fighting men. And the colorful Army ceremonial fife and drum unit in colonial dress and sparkling bagpipers added their tunes, including "Yankee Doodle."

Stark Prosecutor Delays Action In Burning Car Case

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman has postponed presentation to the grand jury of facts in the death of an unidentified man whose body was found in the burning car belonging to Robert K. Domer.

Facts in the case were to have gone to the grand jury today, but the prosecutor delayed action after learning that an autopsy report would not be ready on time.

Meanwhile, authorities were checking on a missing Akron man whose description appears to match details known about the man whose charred body was found in Domer's car.

Capt. Carroll Cutrigh, an Akron detective, Thursday reported similarities between the dead man and Howard Franklin Riddle, a part-time fruit peddler and construction worker, missing since April 19.

Sentenced To Life

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Walter L. Arney, 39, of Dayton was sentenced to life imprisonment Thursday in Montgomery County Common Pleas Court for the fatal shooting Oct. 4 of Frank D. Smith, a Dayton city employe.
